PROPOSAL TO MEET STEAMERS LOADED WITH DEAD, ISSUE

Lustig and Gorrell End Argument in Near Fist-fight.

CALL SPECIAL SESSION

Emergency Relief Bill is Signed by Governor Cox Thursday.

Columbus, Feb. 5.—Blows almost resulted in the house during a dispute between Reps. Lustig, Cuyahoga county, and Gorrell, Carrol county, over the adoption of Senator Liggett's resolution proposing that a committee, headed by Major General Clenn, meet steamers bringing back bodies of Ohio soldiers killed in France.

When Lustig obected to the bill and to some of the members named on the committee. Gorrell replied that Lustig was not loyal to the cause of the soldiers. Lustig declared that the charge was an insult and went over to Gorrell's des and shook his fist in Godrell's face.

Rep. Matthews, Scioto county, who lost a son in France, requested Speaker Kimball to order Gorrell and Lustig from the house floor, if they wanted to fight over the soldier question. Lustig apologized to Matthews.

The resolution was adopted unanimously, Rep. Scott, Hamilton county, announced he would refuse to serve on the committee, since some one had objected to his name.

Call Special Session.

Republican leaders believe Governor Cox will call a special session of the legislature, with a request that it enact additional taxation measures.

For 13 months the legislature has worked on taxation bills. Appropriations for the two years ending July 30, 1921, exceed the estimated state income by several million dollars, but the legislature has been unsuccessful in enacting laws which will take care of the situation.

Hope of enacting a permanent taxation program fell through when the house defeated the debt limitation amendment last evening. Leaders in the house decided it was useless to bring to a vote the proposed classification and income tax amendments.

Relief Bill Squad.

The emergency relief bill, authorizing cities to issue bonds to raise the revenue for operation during 1920, has been signed by Governor Cox.

The senate amended the Griswold house bill designed to permit farmers to form co-operative organization for the purpose of marketing their produce and purchasing necessary commodities, so as to strike out the provision seeking to exempt farmers organizations from the provisions of the Valentine anti-trust law. The bill now goes to the governor.

The Miller and Crabbe bills, seeking to repeal the three prohibition bills passed last spring and now up for referendum vote at the November elections, passed the legislature. Secretary of State Smith and the courts will undoubtedly be called upon to decide whether or not the legislature can repeal measures pending a referendum.

Paris, Feb. 5.—Marshal Foch became an "immortal" today when he was formally received into the membership of the French academy. He was escorted by Marshal Joffre and M. DeFreycinet, both of whom were attired in green costumes. Raymond Poincare, retiring president of France who acted as chairman of the ceremonies, lauded Marshal Foch's services in his opening address.

WHISKEY RING EXPOSED IN RAIDS ON "FACTORIES"

Alleged Hair Tonic Makers Operated Under Blind to Sell Alcohol.

Washington, Feb. 5. — Enormous withdrawals of whiskey from bonded warehouses by alleged "flavoring extract" and "hair tonic" makers, upon such scale that it may reach the proportions of a scandal, has led to a probe by Prohibition Commissioner Kramer, as to the validity of thousands of permits already granted by the bureau.

The outcome of the investigation probably will be the revocation of large numbers of permits issued by various collectors to embryo establishments that have sprung up since national prohibition went into effect.

Fool Officers.

Some of these establishments, with lurid signs and stationery, have been able to "put one over" on the enforcement officers by various methods of evasion. Most of the places being probed are said to be factories in name only and exist only as a means through which the prohibited alcohol can be secured.

Discovery of "rings" of bootleggers in New York City, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Chicago, Baltimore, St. Louis, Cincinnati and a score of other cities developed well organized plots to obtain liquor by fraudulent means.

In scores of cases now being investigated, it is probable that large bonds put up by so-called "manufacturers" as a guarantee of good faith, will be automatically forfeited. Making of false affidavits is covered by their penalties, including imprisonment.

SEE AGREEMENT IN RAIL WAGE DISPUTE SOON

Washington, Feb. 5.—The railway wage parley between Director General Walker D. Hines and representatives of the brotherhoods and allied groups today entered the third day of negotiation, with the prospect that the conferees were nearing a basis for agreement on main points in disputes. Over night the labor leaders had had time to go more fully into high cost of living data, offered as a supplement to the government's program for effecting a remedy for the men's grievances.

Director General Hines on the government's side, entered the conference when it opened, prepared to combat the claims of some of the group leaders that the increases given to railroad workers had not kept up to the level maintained generally in other industries. Mr. Hines takes the position that the pay per hour to railroad workers makes a reasonable comparison, on the average with the wages paid in private enterprises.

U. S. SENDS URGENT REQUEST TO MEXICO FOR ABDUCTORS

Washington, Feb. 5.—The United States has made an urgent request upon the Mexican government to take immediate steps to capture the abductors of Joseph A. Askew, an American, kidnapped on Feb. 2.

Confirmation of the kidnapping of Askew was received by the state department today. Bandits attacked the plantation of the Tiahualilo company's ranch at Lerdo, Durango, on the night of February 2 and carried Askew away with them.

James Brown Potter of New York, president of the company, has asked that immediate action be taken to rescue Askew.

The British legation at Mexico City has been informed of the kidnapping.

APPEAL TO PEOPLE TO GIVE UP GOLD

London, Feb. 5.—The Daily Express today appealed to the people of England to surrender their gold, jewelry and ornaments and hoarded coin so that the bullion could be used to pay the British debt to the United States at once.

"We have enough gold in the homes of this country to liquidate our American debt and pay off our foreign creditors," said the Daily Express.

The newspaper suggests a bond issue to secure the indebtedness of the people who surrender their gold.

GERMAN CABINET OUT?

The Hague, Feb. 5.—An unconfirmed rumor was received from Berlin today that the German cabinet may resign because of the serious situation created by the allies' demand for alleged German war criminals.

DEMAND MADE TO SEND BERGER TO U. S. PENITENTIARY

Chicago, Feb. 5.—A demand that Victor Berger be sent to a federal penitentiary to begin serving his sentence of ten years was to be made today by federal District Attorney Charles Clyne, who prepared to file the government's brief before the U. S. Court of Appeals. The brief charged that Berger, who is out on bail pending an appeal, is attempting to perpetrate a fraud on the appeal court and that he is guilty of perjury in his trial before Judge Landis.

District Attorney Clyne claims to have new evidence showing that Berger opposed conscription. Berger's conviction led to his expulsion from congress, following which he was re-elected on the socialist ticket from Milwaukee and again refused a seat in congress.

BOLSHEVIKI TROOPS ARE ADVANCING

London, Feb. 5.—The war office announced today that 2,000 Bolshevik troops, led by officers of the old regime, are advancing every week towards the Persian frontier. It added that a special train from Moscow is carrying officials, including Germans, towards the Alghansitan frontier.

RAGING BLIZZARD SWEEPS EAST; FUEL IS SCARCE

Transportation Badly Crippled as Gale Plays Havoc on Coast.

MAY AFFECT EPIDEMIC

Lack of Fuel Causes Severe Suffering and Industrial Tie-up.

New York, Feb. 5.—A raging blizzard of wind, snow and sleet has held this city in its grip for more than twenty-four hours. The sleet freezing as it fell, completely paralyzed street railway traffic. The heavy fall of snow was piled by the high wind into huge drifts and the street cleaning force was almost powerless to keep the main arteries of traffic open.

Telegraph and telephone communication was badly crippled and all trains arriving in this city from the west and from New England points were from thirty minutes to six hours late.

Thousands of commuters from New Jersey were held up. Huge ice floes in the Hudson river and the harbor made the ferry service hazardous and service on the Hudson tubes was impaired by the lack of fuel at the power houses.

NUMEROUS ACCIDENTS.

There were numerous accidents throughout the city. The streets were solid sheets of ice and the wrecks of overturned motor cars dotted the thoroughfares all the way from the battery to the Bronx. Trucking was practically at a standstill.

The dangers and discomforts of the storm were multiplied by the scarcity of fuel. Some of the power houses supplying traction lines had exhausted virtually all their reserve stocks of coal today.

The public health department was also alarmed over the effect of the blizzard upon influenza and pneumonia epidemic. The streets are in worse condition than they have been at any time this winter.

The storm struck New York from the northeast with a thirty mile wind which rapidly rose to the fury of a gale. The entire Atlantic coast to the northeast and southwest of this port was lashed by the storm, causing grave dangers to shipping.

The charitable institutions which care for the homeless were filled to capacity during the night.

FIVE WEEKS WILL BE GIVEN TRIAL OF SEN. NEWBERRY

Grand Rapids, Mich., Feb. 5.—With the testimony of but seventeen of the government's 400 witnesses complete, it was apparent as the trial of Senator Truman H. Newberry and his 122 co-defendants upon its third day today that at least five weeks would be required to present the prosecution.

Despite the strenuous objections of the defense, the government countinued its unique style of attack today. This consists of picking out one defendant at a time, potting him with a bit of damaging evidence and then while the defense is gathering itself for effective resistance and then skipping away again to some entirely unsuspected point.

By means of this method the government has so far been enabled to cover considerable territory. Starting with the press gallery of the United States senate in Washington, it leaped to the lounge of the hotel Biltmore, New York and soon reappeared in a remote precinct of the upper Michigan peninsula. A moment later it was in the offices of Commander Newberry in New York, shifting as quickly back to Newberry headquarters in Detroit.

Because of the large number of defendants involved the defense has experienced the utmost difficulty in keeping up with these maneuvers. Attorneys are frequently forced to make a quick search for the defendant involved and by the time he is found the testimony is often almost completed on that particular point.

MEXICAN HELD FOR MURDER OF TWO AMERICANS

Washington, Feb. 5.—Guadalupe Castro is now being held for the murder of the two Americans, Roney and Bowles, near Tampico, the Mexican embassy announced today. Two accomplices are also held and an investigation is under way with a view to further arrests.

A statement from the embassy declares "the United States counsul at Tampico has expressed great satisfaction for the activity of the Mexican authorities in the investigations leading to the capture and punishment of the guilty parties concerned."

Miss Emily Knowles, central figure in one of the most amazing romances growing out of the war, and her four-months-old "war baby," photographed aboard the Ellis Island ferryboat after her release. It was largely through the efforts of Mrs. Cora Spiker of Baltimore, whose husband, Perley Spiker, is the father of the child that Miss Knowles was released from Ellis Island and admitted to the United States, Guy Spiker, brother of Perley Spiker, will marry Miss Knowles. The sensational developments of this unusual "love triangle" has caused much comment throughout the country.

PROMPT ACTION OF CHIEF EXECUTIVE CHECKS MOB

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 5.—The courageous action of Governor Edwin P. Morrow early today in meeting and dispersing a mob of hundreds of men determined upon the lynching of Will Luckett, a returned negro soldier who had confessed to the murder of ten year old Geneva Hardaman, quieted a situation which for several hours during the night threatened to get beyond control of the authorities.

The negro had been rushed to the Frankfort reformatory from the Nicholasville jail to escape a mob at that point.

News spread throughout the hundreds of men organibzed at Lexington who proceeded to Frankfort by automobile and interurban cars. Governor Morrow, while attending a legislative committee meeting at 11 o'clock last night was apprised of the coming of the mob.

Police Guard Prison.

All guards and police available were quickly thrown about the reformatory heavily armed and special deputies sworn in. The governor ordered the power shut off on the interurban lines preventing the major portion of the mob from quickly reaching the state capital.

Governor Morrow then proceeded by automobile to a high hill overlooking the city and there awaited the mob.

Early today the governor addressed the mob telling them that should they attempt to storm the reformatory, they would walk into a death trap.

He assured the mob justice would be done through the due process of law and ordered the mob to disperse.

Finally in the early morning hours, the mob agreed to disperse and a battle for possession of the negro was averted.

The murder, according to authorities, was a most brutal one, the Hardaman girl being attacked on her way to school yesterday within sight of her home.

G. O. P. LEADERS IN CONFERENCE FIX PLATFORM

Washington, Feb. 5.—With the return to this city of Chairman Will H. Hays of the Republican national committee plans for the work of the committee of 171, which is to formulate recommendations for this year's Republican national platform, got actively under way.

The committee's immediate task is the collection of opinions on more than 20 matters of domestic concern, with probable creation of a number of subcommittees to deal separately with the various proposed planks. Foreign relations will be passed over for the present as a possible factor in the campaign, pending outcome of the peace treaty fight.

These plans have been put in concrete form in a memorandum to committee members and were outlined in general at a conference between Chairman Hays and more than a score of senators and representatives who hold membership in the body.

The meeting, which took place in the office of Senator Lodge, majority leader of the senate, was accompanied by a renewal of the opposition to the committee plan which developed in some quarters when it was announced several weeks ago.

Senator Watson of Indiana, who has been selected to head the resolutions committee at the convention, made a spirited defense of the project. A similar plan, he told the conference, had been used with success for a number of years in Indiana.

Senators Moses of New Hampshire and McCormick of Illinois have declined to serve on the committee, because they found themselves out of sympathy with that method of preparing platform recommendations. Senator Moses is the manager of Washington headquarters for General Wood.

Among the subjects selected as possible platform material and on which opinions will be collected and tabulated are business rehabilitation, tariff changes, readjustment of foreign and domestic commerce, postal reforms, better labor conditions and a review of the Democratic administra-

END OF EVIDENCE OF STATE IN N. Y. TRIAL IS NEAR

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 5.—The end of the state's case against the five suspended socialist assemblymen from New York either late today or tomorrow seemed probable when the hearing got under way again today.

The state plans to offer only a few more witnesses, it was said and if Seymour Stedman, the socialists' chief counsel, will make brief their cross examination the state will close and move for an adjournment over the week-end. In that case the socialists will start their defense next week.

How long the defense will take is problematical. Stedman declared that the defense would take less than one quarter of the time which the prosecution has used.

PREDICT FALL OF GOVERNMENT AND REIGN OF TERROR

German Press Forcasts Desperate Conditions Will Prevail.

REFUSAL EXPECTED

Next Few Days May Decide Fate of Entire Country.

Berlin, Feb. 5.—The fall of the German government with the accompanying danger of Bolshevism was predicted by the socialist newspaper Vorwaerts today as a result of the allies' demand for alleged German war criminals. The newspaper points out that, if Bolshevism sweeps Germany, the allies would have no chance of securing the execution of their treaty demands.

The cabinet met in special session last night to consider the allies' demand for 800 German military officers of state who are wanted for trial and also the resignation of Baron Von Lesner as head of the German peace delegation in Paris. Baron Von Lesner is expected to arrive from Paris tomorrow.

The list of wanted Germans was received telegraphically direct from Paris.

Belief was expressed in circles close to the cabinet that the government will claim it is impossible to meet the demand of the allies. There is high excitment here and the opinion is expressed that the next few days may decide the future fate of Germany.

Heretofore the cabinet had believed that the allies were to some extent "bluffing" and the determined demand for the accused German officials threw some of the members of the government into complete confusion.

The demand for Field Marshal Von Hinderburg caused some of the cabineters to make the gloomy prediction that the troops would mutiny before they would arrest the former chief of staff.

Cabinet to Resign.

The first of the cabineteers to make an open threat to resign were the Democratic members, Dr. Schiffer and Dr. Roch. They declared they would leave the ministry rather than vote to deliver the wanted officers.

Most of the German newspapers support the stand of Von Lersner and it is also endorsed by many leading politicians.

The Lokal Anzeiger, in commenting upon the developments says that "a crisis has been reached and that the fate and honor of the German nation are at stake." It adds: "This is a disgrace that will not be borne. The German people will all rally their last strength and honor to prevent it. But it is necessary to keep cool to ensure success. There is no question that the German officials demanded are extraditable but it must be re-

MINT EMPLOYE IS ARRESTED ON CHARGE OF BULLION THEFT

Denver, Colo., Feb. 5.—Orville Harrington, 40, skilled employe of the Denver Mint, was arrested early today by U. S. Secret service agents in connection with the theft of coins and bullion from the local mint. It is said the thefts have covered a period of several months and that over $100,000 has been stolen.

Harrington, who federal officials declare, has confessed to extensive thefts from the mint, was a cripple with a wooden leg. Yesterday through the aid of powerful spy glasses trained on a window of the room in which the man was working, secret service operatives watched Harrington place coin and bullion in a secret crevice of the leg while he was at work. He was arrested in his home at 4 o'clock this morning.

The decision to call off the strike was reached by unanimous vote.

PROMPT ACTION OF CHIEF EXECUTIVE CHECKS MOB

Washington, Feb. 5.—With the return to this city of Chairman Will H. Hays of the Republican national committee plans for the work of the committee of 171, which is to formulate recommendations for this year's Republican national platform, got actively under way.

The committee's immediate task is the collection of opinions on more than 20 matters of domestic concern, with probable creation of a number of subcommittees to deal separately with the various proposed planks. Foreign relations will be passed over for the present as a possible factor in the campaign, pending outcome of the peace treaty fight.

These plans have been put in concrete form in a memorandum to committee members and were outlined in general at a conference between Chairman Hays and more than a score of senators and representatives who hold membership in the body.

The meeting, which took place in the office of Senator Lodge, majority leader of the senate, was accompanied by a renewal of the opposition to the committee plan which developed in some quarters when it was announced several weeks ago.

Senator Watson of Indiana, who has been selected to head the resolutions committee at the convention, made a spirited defense of the project. A similar plan, he told the conference, had been used with success for a number of years in Indiana.

Senators Moses of New Hampshire and McCormick of Illinois have declined to serve on the committee, because they found themselves out of sympathy with that method of preparing platform recommendations. Senator Moses is the manager of Washington headquarters for General Wood.

Among the subjects selected as possible platform material and on which opinions will be collected and tabulated are business rehabilitation, tariff changes, readjustment of foreign and domestic commerce, postal reforms, better labor conditions and a review of the Democratic administra-

Kentucky Governor Halts Hundreds of Men Bent on Lynching.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 5.—The courageous action of Governor Edwin P. Morrow early today in meeting and dispersing a mob of hundreds of men determined upon the lynching of Will Luckett, a returned negro soldier who had confessed to the murder of ten year old Geneva Hardaman, quieted a situation which for several hours during the night threatened to get beyond control of the authorities.

The negro had been rushed to the Frankfort reformatory from the Nicholasville jail to escape a mob at that point.

News spread throughout the hundreds of men organibzed at Lexington who proceeded to Frankfort by automobile and interurban cars. Governor Morrow, while attending a legislative committee meeting at 11 o'clock last night was apprised of the coming of the mob.

Police Guard Prison.

All guards and police available were quickly thrown about the reformatory heavily armed and special deputies sworn in. The governor ordered the power shut off on the interurban lines preventing the major portion of the mob from quickly reaching the state capital.

Governor Morrow then proceeded by automobile to a high hill overlooking the city and there awaited the mob.

Early today the governor addressed the mob telling them that should they attempt to storm the reformatory, they would walk into a death trap.

He assured the mob justice would be done through the due process of law and ordered the mob to disperse.

Finally in the early morning hours, the mob agreed to disperse and a battle for possession of the negro was averted.

The murder, according to authorities, was a most brutal one, the Hardaman girl being attacked on her way to school yesterday within sight of her home.

END OF EVIDENCE OF STATE IN N. Y. TRIAL IS NEAR

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 5.—The end of the state's case against the five suspended socialist assemblymen from New York either late today or tomorrow seemed probable when the hearing got under way again today.

The state plans to offer only a few more witnesses, it was said and if Seymour Stedman, the socialists' chief counsel, will make brief their cross examination the state will close and move for an adjournment over the week-end. In that case the socialists will start their defense next week.

How long the defense will take is problematical. Stedman declared that the defense would take less than one quarter of the time which the prosecution has used.

PREDICT FALL OF GOVERNMENT AND REIGN OF TERROR

German Press Forcasts Desperate Conditions Will Prevail.

REFUSAL EXPECTED

Next Few Days May Decide Fate of Entire Country.

Berlin, Feb. 5.—The fall of the German government with the accompanying danger of Bolshevism was predicted by the socialist newspaper Vorwaerts today as a result of the allies' demand for alleged German war criminals. The newspaper points out that, if Bolshevism sweeps Germany, the allies would have no chance of securing the execution of their treaty demands.

The cabinet met in special session last night to consider the allies' demand for 800 German military officers of state who are wanted for trial and also the resignation of Baron Von Lesner as head of the German peace delegation in Paris. Baron Von Lesner is expected to arrive from Paris tomorrow.

The list of wanted Germans was received telegraphically direct from Paris.

Belief was expressed in circles close to the cabinet that the government will claim it is impossible to meet the demand of the allies. There is high excitement here and the opinion is expressed that the next few days may decide the future fate of Germany.

Heretofore the cabinet had believed that the allies were to some extent "bluffing" and the determined demand for the accused German officials threw some of the members of the government into complete confusion.

The demand for Field Marshal Von Hinderburg caused some of the cabineters to make the gloomy prediction that the troops would mutiny before they would arrest the former chief of staff.

Cabinet to Resign.

The first of the cabineteers to make an open threat to resign were the Democratic members, Dr. Schiffer and Dr. Roch. They declared they would leave the ministry rather than vote to deliver the wanted officers.

Most of the German newspapers support the stand of Von Lersner and it is also endorsed by many leading politicians.

The Lokal Anzeiger, in commenting upon the developments says that "a crisis has been reached and that the fate and honor of the German nation are at stake." It adds: "This is a disgrace that will not be borne. The German people will all rally their last strength and honor to prevent it. But it is necessary to keep cool to ensure success. There is no question that the German officials demanded are extraditable but it must be re-

Denver, Colo., Feb. 5.—Orville Harrington, 40, skilled employe of the Denver Mint, was arrested early today by U. S. Secret service agents in connection with the theft of coins and bullion from the local mint. It is said the thefts have covered a period of several months and that over $100,000 has been stolen.

Harrington, who federal officials declare, has confessed to extensive thefts from the mint, was a cripple with a wooden leg. Yesterday through the aid of powerful spy glasses trained on a window of the room in which the man was working, secret service operatives watched Harrington place coin and bullion in a secret crevice of the leg while he was at work. He was arrested in his home at 4 o'clock this morning.

membered that the destiny, honor and future of the entire German nation are in the balance now."

"The general impression is that the list beats all expectations," says the Tageblatt. This newspaper comments in a very pessimistic strain. Protestant church organizations have united in a resolution appealing to the government not to yield to the German officers.

It is revealed that many members of the ministry have received letters threatening personal violence if they decide to give up the alleged culprits. Some of the German cabineteers described themselves as being "stunned" by the names included in the list.

Few Fat Men Famed.

Fat and fame have not very often been combined, perhaps because stout men are generally inclined to be easy going, and therefore lacking in that push which brings a man to the fore, says London Answers. "The general impression is that the list beats all expectations," says the Tageblatt. This newspaper comments in a very pessimistic strain. Protestant church organizations have united in a resolution appealing to the government not to yield to the German officers.

The names were received by telegraph direct from Paris, the first name on the list was that of Grand Duke Albrecht of Wurtemburg, a former commander on the western front.

AUTO LICENSES FOR 1920 ARE READY FOR USE

Columbus, O., Feb. 5.—Automobile owners in Ohio, beginning today, will be able to purchase the 1920 auto license plates, it was announced by Secretary of State Smith.

Although no automobilist is required to obtain the 1920 tag yet, as the suit to test the constitutionality of the graduated auto tax law is pending before the Franklin county appellate court, Secretary Smith has decided to distribute the tags to those who desire them. This action, he declared is the result of the request of autoists living near the state boundaries, who frequently are molested in other states with their 1919 license plates.

Those 1920 tags will cost the auto owners the fee determined by the graduated auto tax law. Should this law be held unconstitutional, Secretary Smith said, refunds will be made.

Four hundred thousand sets of 1920 auto tags have been sent out to the state automobile clubs and other distributing agencies, where automobile owners can obtain them. State registrar Snow of the automobile department here, will issue the new licenses also.

How the Use of this External Treatment for Cold Troubles Has Grown

MORE than a score of years ago, Lunsford Richardson, a druggist in a little North Carolina town, was trying to find a new way to treat spasmodic croup and colds. He had been trying to find it for years—he needed such a treatment in his own home—he knew that epicac and internal medicines disturbed the delicate digestions of children—that the only way to get medication directly to the air passages and lungs was in vapor form. So he was searching for an effective vapor treatment which would be economical, convenient, and which could be used without the necessity of closing up the sick room and thus excluding the fresh air, so important in the treatment of colds.

At last, this druggist found a process by which he could combine in salve form the standard, time-tested remedies—Camphor, Menthol, Eucalyptus, Thymol and Turpentine—with other volatile oils so that when this salve was spread over the throat and chest the ingredients would be vaporized by the body heat. These vapors, inhaled with each breath all night long, carried the medication directly to the parts affected and at the same time the salve was absorbed thru and stimulated the skin, aiding the vapors inhaled to relieve the congestion. This product was named Vick's VapoRub.

Now over 17 Million Jars are used yearly

Vicks was found to be good for a great many troubles besides spasmodic croup, and as time went on, its sale increased county by county and state by state, until now over 17 million jars are used each year—almost one jar for every family in the United States. And this in spite of the fact that Vicks is still a new form of treatment to many people in the North and far West.

The best testimony to the value of Vicks is the increasing number of families who, each year, are converted to the use of this real "Little Bodyguard in the Home."

Here is the record of the number of jars used annually for the last few years:

1910	347,748 Jars
1911	523,152 Jars
1912	1,027,068 Jars
1913	1,357,590 Jars
1914	1,462,330 Jars
1915	2,418,213 Jars
1916	4,302,764 Jars
1917	6,799,511 Jars
1918	17,377,408 Jars

Directions for the Use of Vicks

VICK'S VapoRub comes in salve form. When applied to the body its action is two-fold.

1st.—INTERNAL. The heat of the body releases the ingredients in the form of vapors. These vapors are inhaled with each breath, carrying the medication through the air passages to the lungs.

2nd.—EXTERNAL. In addition, Vicks is absorbed thru and stimulates the skin, attracting the blood to the surface and aiding the vapors inhaled to relieve the congestion.

For Deep Chest Colds, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Coughs, Hoarseness

For severe cases, hot, wet towels should be applied over the throat and chest to open the pores of the skin. Then Vicks should be rubbed well in, spread on thickly and covered with two thicknesses of hot, flannel cloths. The clothing should be left loose around the neck and the bed clothes arranged in the form of a funnel, so that the vapors arising may be freely inhaled.

For Head Colds, Asthma, Catarrh, Hay Fever, Whooping Cough

For these troubles, Vicks can be used as for chest colds or can be melted in a spoon and the vapors inhaled, or a little applied up the nostrils and snuffed back into the air passages.

For Spasmodic Croup and Children's Colds

Vicks is particularly recommended for children's colds, since it is externally applied and can, therefore, be used often and freely with perfect safety. For spasmodic croup, rub Vicks over the throat and chest until the difficult breathing is relieved; then spread on thickly and cover with a hot flannel cloth. An application at bedtime usually prevents a night attack of croup.

For Use as a Liniment, Poultice or Plaster

On account of its penetrative and rubefacient effect on the skin, Vicks has been found excellent for many minor ailments, such as Bites, Boils, Burns, Bruises, Cuts, Frost bite, Itchings, Muscular Soreness, Poison oak, Sunburn, Headache.

Vicks Is Not Meant to Replace the Physician

At the first symptoms of a serious illness, such as pneumonia, a physician should always be called. Many other troubles, such as chronic catarrh or continued headache, call for the diagnosis of a good doctor. Vicks is simply an emergency remedy, which can be kept in the home ready for instant use and which can be used freely, with perfect safety, on the youngest member of the family.

AUTO LICENSES FOR 1920 ARE READY FOR USE

Columbus, O., Feb. 5.—Automobile owners in Ohio, beginning today, will be able to purchase the 1920 auto license plates, it was announced by Secretary of State Smith.

Although no automobilist is required to obtain the 1920 tag yet, as the suit to test the constitutionality of the graduated auto tax law is pending before the Franklin county appellate court, Secretary Smith has decided to distribute the tags to those who desire them. This action, he declared is the result of the request of autoists living near the state boundaries, who frequently are molested in other states with their 1919 license plates.

Those 1920 tags will cost the auto owners the fee determined by the graduated auto tax law. Should this law be held unconstitutional, Secretary Smith said, refunds will be made.

Four hundred thousand sets of 1920 auto tags have been sent out to the state automobile clubs and other distributing agencies, where automobile owners can obtain them. State registrar Snow of the automobile department here, will issue the new licenses also.

Where Vicks Began

The Drug Store in which O. Henry Spent His Boyhood

This is the drug store in Greensboro, N. C., purchased by Mr. Lunsford Richardson in 1888 from Dr. Porter. Dr. Porter was the uncle of "Will" Porter, who, under the nom-de-plume of O. Henry, became America's greatest short story writer. O. Henry practically grew up in this store and learned here the profession of pharmacy.

It was during his years behind the prescription counter of this drug store that Mr. Richardson worked out the formula for Vicks.

THE SENATOR NEWBERRY CASE.

An outline of what the government expects to prove against Truman H. Newberry, United States senator, and his 123 associates, charged with conspiracy in connection with the 1918 senatorial campaign, was given in Federal District Court at Grand Rapids on Monday by Frank G. Dailey, special assistant attorney general. This case is given nation wide prominence because of Mr. Newberry's opponent, Henry Ford, the great automobile manufacturer, being such a conspicuous man.

And note this, please, that in very many cases, the prosecutor will proceed at great length to state that "the evidence will show" such and such facts, and this, of course, right before any witnesses have testified, and get this suppositious arraignment of bad things published broadcast, thus making the defendent's case handicapped against him right at the start. Because in many cases the evidence does not show what the prosecuting attorney claimed it would.

Senator Newberry being a very rich man, the threat is to prove that money was used very lavishly in his campaign—a great deal more than is allowed by law for a candidate to use in getting to be a United States Senator.

We of Ohio have had the mortifying charge against us that, some years ago, a gentleman by the name of Mark Hanna, one of our millionaires, bought the State Legislature, or so much as necessary, to give him the Senatorship from Ohio. So we can't conscientiously point the finger of scorn at Michigan if Mr. Newberry's election be proved to have been "a dollar campaign," as charged.

Our whole government system being based on the elective franchise, its purity must be maintained or everything goes to chaos. And when we remember how comparatively few are the derelictions from honesty in our elections, it is a matter of great congratulation that "government of the people, by the people, for the people," has not perished from the earth.

In aspirations for membership of our governing body, for a seat in the House or Senate of Congress, money should have no place. It ought to be as easy for a poor man as for a rich one to secure a place in either. It should be our glory when such is the case, and our shame when it is not so. In all elections of this kind the motto should be "Let Justice be done though the Heavens fall"—or though the culprit in the case go to the penitentiary.

One reason for this is that the only way to make some men see the beauty of Justice is by showing them in pretty plain terms the consequences of injustice. Justice and power must go together, so that whatever is just may be powerful in securing the right, or in losing it. So, if Mr. Newberry has been guilty of mean and dishonorable methods in pushing his political aspirations he should be found guilty.

Shakespeare made one of his characters say: "Were he my brother, man my kingdom's heir, such neighbor meanness to our sacred blood should nothing privilege him."

FOREIGN DEMAND FOR OUR FLOUR.

Flour millers of Kansas City and at interior points of the Southwest are re-establishing foreign trade connections. After more than two years, during which the export trade in wheat and wheat flour was handled exclusively by the United States grain corporation, actual business has been resumed, a comparatively liberal volume of sales having recently been made. It is estimated that in January Kansas City millers sold approximately 50,000 barrels of export grades. The bulk of the flour was sold to Egypt, and there has been business also with Asiatic countries and with some European nations. Payment is in American dollar at the seaboard.

When Julius H. Barnes, president of the United States grain corporation, announced the formal removal of all restrictions on the exportation of wheat and flour from this country on December 15, 1919, an active effort to resume foreign trade was made.

The trade continued its efforts to place clean and low grade flour on foreign markets, operating on the theory that Europe required bread and would buy in the United States. The results thus far are encouraging and the outlook is bright for a sharply increased volume of trade.

Considerable business is being done also with the West Indies and Central and South American buyers. Sales during January by southwestern mills were reported in excess of 100,000 barrels.

No one need feel alarmed for fear this foreign demand is going to make a higher price for his flour and bread, for the above quoted sales are a low grade of flour little used here—flour which sells at $6.50 to $7.00 per barrel. Of course they are glad to get it "over there," where they have been living on stuff not much more palatable than chips and whet stones.

From recent actions of the state legislature it would appear that this illustrous body is splitting on the question of form in the use of tobacco, the cigarette smokers threatening the followers of the Joe Cannon style with additional taxes on stogies, to get even for an increased fee on cigarettes. But what about we common people?

Even a paragraphes's heart warns in pity for those hunted German officials, who are demanded by the Allies to answer for their crimes, and our decision in the matter would be to turn them over to Captain Detzer after conviction, but then we suppose we are too soft hearted.

Apparently some members of the general assembly do not know that the war has been fought and won, so they must need engage in a fistic encounter as a fitting requiem for our soldiers killed in France.

George Creel has again broken into the center of the publicity stage.

Perhaps we are morbidly curious, but we cannot help wondering if that self-styled Russian Envoy Ludwig C. A. K. Martens, adds a middle initial every time he accepts a diplomatic post.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Captain and Mrs. William Magee Wilson are anticipating a trip to Washington, D. C., to spend several weeks. Mrs. Wilson as regent of Catherine Green Chapter Daughter of the American Revolution, will represent the Chapter at the Continental Congress which convenes February 22.

The Martin murder trial jury, which has been isolated in charge of Marshall Al. Zeiner of Jamestown, had a lonesome Sunday together at the Florence hotel. Mr. Neff of the Rapid Transit company offered to give them a special car for a trolley ride to Dayton, but as Judge Nielan had gone home the necessary permission could not be obtained and the plan had to be abandoned.

AFTER DINNER STORIES

Johnny and Jimmy were at a party and, being away in a corner at supper time, they were not looked after very well. They managed to get some jelly and bread and butter, but no spoons.

"How shall we eat our jelly?" asked Jimmy.

"Balance it on your bread and butter," said Johnny.

"I tried that," retorted Jimmy, "but it won't stay on; it's too nervous."

"What is your idea of the average man?"

"In a city he's a fellow who's always waiting for the raise that never comes; takes his meals off the arm of a chair until he gets married and after that eats in the kitchen with his coat off; never spends more than fifty cents on amusements in one day, until after he's married and then never spends more than a quarter, and whenever there's a street parade downtown he's always somewhere along the line of march."

The dear old thing, with her usual stock of questions, was visiting the Zoo.

"Keeper," she said, "what do you consider to be the most remarkable animal in these wonderful gardens?"

"Well, ma'am," replied the keeper, thoughtfully, "I should say that there laughing hyena gets the prize."

"Indeed, my good man! And what makes you think that?"

"Well, he only has a sleep once a week, a meal once a month, and a drink once a year," said the keeper, moving on "So what he has to laugh about beats me."

"Is your husband improving?"

MOTORAIDS

One thing to be remembered about the proper care of tires is that, as soon as the tire shows the slightest sign of giving way or develops a cut in the side or in the tread or side, it should be given immediate attention an expert tire man. Every one who drives a car should examine the tires for the slightest break in the tread.

Very often it will not have penetrated to the fabric and may easily be made as good as new by tread gum. But if the cuts are allowed to go without the proper attention, if sand and water are allowed to accumulate under the tread and so work into the tire, between the tread and the fabric, it will son cause the tire to become useless.

These are called sand blisters and, besides wearing the tire, they often end in a blowout i na tire which is in perfect condition otherwise. Another mistake is to attempt to repair cuts which have penetrated to the fabric, by cementing repair fabric in the casing. We often see the result of this kind of repair work. In almost every case the patch keeps working into the fabric until it results in a ruined tire. The best way is to take the advice of a tire expert and have him keep your tires in good shape.

Committees investigated it, commissions attacked it, law makers threatened it, many condemned it.

Presently people began to think about it; began to realize that Swift & Company was performing a necessary service in a big, efficient way; began to wonder whether it could be done as well in any other way.

Read what Swift & Company did last year, and what it meant to you, in the Swift & Company Year Book, just issued.

It's a fascinating narrative—simple facts in simple words. There is one ready for you. Send for it.

THE SENATOR NEWBERRY CASE.

An outline of what the government expects to prove against Truman H. Newberry, United States senator, and his 123 associates, charged with conspiracy in connection with the 1918 senatorial campaign, was given in Federal District Court at Grand Rapids on Monday by Frank G. Dailey, special assistant attorney general. This case is given nation wide prominence because of Mr. Newberry's opponent, Henry Ford, the great automobile manufacturer, being such a conspicuous man.

And note this, please, that in very many cases, the prosecutor will proceed at great length to state that "the evidence will show" such and such facts, and this, of course, right before any witnesses have testified, and get this suppositious arraignment of bad things published broadcast, thus making the defendent's case handicapped against him right at the start. Because in many cases the evidence does not show what the prosecuting attorney claimed it would.

Senator Newberry being a very rich man, the threat is to prove that money was used very lavishly in his campaign—a great deal more than is allowed by law for a candidate to use in getting to be a United States Senator.

We of Ohio have had the mortifying charge against us that, some years ago, a gentleman by the name of Mark Hanna, one of our millionaires, bought the State Legislature, or so much as necessary, to give him the Senatorship from Ohio. So we can't conscientiously point the finger of scorn at Michigan if Mr. Newberry's election be proved to have been "a dollar campaign," as charged.

Our whole government system being based on the elective franchise, its purity must be maintained or everything goes to chaos. And when we remember how comparatively few are the derelictions from honesty in our elections, it is a matter of great congratulation that "government of the people, by the people, for the people," has not perished from the earth.

In aspirations for membership of our governing body, for a seat in the House or Senate of Congress, money should have no place. It ought to be as easy for a poor man as for a rich one to secure a place in either. It should be our glory when such is the case, and our shame when it is not so. In all elections of this kind the motto should be "Let Justice be done though the Heavens fall"—or though the culprit in the case go to the penitentiary.

One reason for this is that the only way to make some men see the beauty of Justice is by showing them in pretty plain terms the consequences of injustice. Justice and power must go together, so that whatever is just may be powerful in securing the right, or in losing it. So, if Mr. Newberry has been guilty of mean and dishonorable methods in pushing his political aspirations he should be found guilty.

Shakespeare made one of his characters say: "Were he my brother, man my kingdom's heir, such neighbor meanness to our sacred blood should nothing privilege him."

FOREIGN DEMAND FOR OUR FLOUR.

Flour millers of Kansas City and at interior points of the Southwest are re-establishing foreign trade connections. After more than two years, during which the export trade in wheat and wheat flour was handled exclusively by the United States grain corporation, actual business has been resumed, a comparatively liberal volume of sales having recently been made. It is estimated that in January Kansas City millers sold approximately 50,000 barrels of export grades. The bulk of the flour was sold to Egypt, and there has been business also with Asiatic countries and with some European nations. Payment is in American dollar at the seaboard.

When Julius H. Barnes, president of the United States grain corporation, announced the formal removal of all restrictions on the exportation of wheat and flour from this country on December 15, 1919, an active effort to resume foreign trade was made.

The trade continued its efforts to place clean and low grade flour on foreign markets, operating on the theory that Europe required bread and would buy in the United States. The results thus far are encouraging and the outlook is bright for a sharply increased volume of trade.

Considerable business is being done also with the West Indies and Central and South American buyers. Sales during January by southwestern mills were reported in excess of 100,000 barrels.

No one need feel alarmed for fear this foreign demand is going to make a higher price for his flour and bread, for the above quoted sales are a low grade of flour little used here—flour which sells at $6.50 to $7.00 per barrel. Of course they are glad to get it "over there," where they have been living on stuff not much more palatable than chips and whet stones.

From recent actions of the state legislature it would appear that this illustrous body is splitting on the question of form in the use of tobacco, the cigarette smokers threatening the followers of the Joe Cannon style with additional taxes on stogies, to get even for an increased fee on cigarettes. But what about we common people?

Even a paragraphes's heart warms in pity for those hunted German officials, who are demanded by the Allies to answer for their crimes, and our decision in the matter would be to turn them over to Captain Detzer after conviction, but then we suppose we are too soft hearted.

Apparently some members of the general assembly do not know that the war has been fought and won, so they must need engage in a fistic encounter as a fitting requiem for our soldiers killed in France.

George Creel has again broken into the center of the publicity stage.

Perhaps we are morbidly curious, but we cannot help wondering if that self-styled Russian Envoy Ludwig C. A. K. Martens, adds a middle initial every time he accepts a diplomatic post.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Captain and Mrs. William Magee Wilson are anticipating a trip to Washington, D. C., to spend several weeks. Mrs. Wilson as regent of Catherine Green Chapter Daughter of the American Revolution, will represent the Chapter at the Continental Congress which convenes February 22.

The Martin murder trial jury, which has been isolated in charge of Marshall Al. Zeiner of Jamestown, had a lonesome Sunday together at the Florence hotel. Mr. Neff of the Rapid Transit company offered to give them a special car for a trolley ride to Dayton, but as Judge Nielan had gone home the necessary permission could not be obtained and the plan had to be abandoned.

AFTER DINNER STORIES

Johnny and Jimmy were at a party and, being away in a corner at supper time, they were not looked after very well. They managed to get some jelly and bread and butter, but no spoons.

"How shall we eat our jelly?" asked Jimmy.

"Balance it on your bread and butter," said Johnny.

"I tried that," retorted Jimmy, "but it won't stay on; it's too nervous."

"What is your idea of the average man?"

"In a city he's a fellow who's always waiting for the raise that never comes; takes his meals off the arm of a chair until he gets married and after that eats in the kitchen with his coat off; never spends more than fifty cents on amusements in one day, until after he's married and then never spends more than a quarter, and whenever there's a street parade downtown he's always somewhere along the line of march."

The dear old thing, with her usual stock of questions, was visiting the Zoo.

"Keeper," she said, "what do you consider to be the most remarkable animal in these wonderful gardens?"

"Well, ma'am," replied the keeper, thoughtfully, "I should say that there laughing hyena gets the prize."

"Indeed, my good man! And what makes you think that?"

"Well, he only has a sleep once a week, a meal once a month, and a drink once a year," said the keeper, moving on "So what he has to laugh about beats me."

"Is your husband improving?"

MOTORAIDS

One thing to be remembered about the proper care of tires is that, as soon as the tire shows the slightest sign of giving way or develops a cut in the side or in the tread or side, it should be given immediate attention an expert tire man. Every one who drives a car should examine the tires for the slightest break in the tread.

Very often it will not have penetrated to the fabric and may easily be made as good as new by tread gum. But if the cuts are allowed to go without the proper attention, if sand and water are allowed to accumulate under the tread and so work into the tire, between the tread and the fabric, it will son cause the tire to become useless.

These are called sand blisters and, besides wearing the tire, they often end in a blowout i na tire which is in perfect condition otherwise. Another mistake is to attempt to repair cuts which have penetrated to the fabric, by cementing repair fabric in the casing. We often see the result of this kind of repair work. In almost every case the patch keeps working into the fabric until it results in a ruined tire. The best way is to take the advice of a tire expert and have him keep your tires in good shape.

Committees investigated it, commissions attacked it, law makers threatened it, many condemned it.

Presently people began to think about it; began to realize that Swift & Company was performing a necessary service in a big, efficient way; began to wonder whether it could be done as well in any other way.

Read what Swift & Company did last year, and what it meant to you, in the Swift & Company Year Book, just issued.

It's a fascinating narrative—simple facts in simple words. There is one ready for you. Send for it.

AUTO DRAGGED BY FREIGHT CAR PARTY ESCAPES

When the Ford sedan in which they were riding was struck by a cut of freight cars at the Columbus street crossing of the Pennsylvania railroad, a party of five people escaped with minor injuries.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Sellars, 301 West Main street, their 8 year old son, Virgil, Miss Helen Burtis, a neighbor, and Eugene Ballentine, a workman who had assisted Mr. Sellers in driving a bunch of cattle to the Buck abbatoir on the Wilmington pike, were in the car.

With the front of the sedan hooked on the end of the freight car, the little machine was pushed backward about 100 feet along the track, with its load of imprisoned and terrified passengers. The brakeman in charge of the cut of cars saw the accident, and the train, which was backing slowly was stopped as soon as possible. The five people were assisted from the wrecked automobile, and with the exception of the little boy were all able to walk to their homes. The child has a severely bruised ankle. Miss Burtis' heel was hurt, Mrs. Sellers has a bruised shoulder and the two men were cut and scratched by broken glass. The automobile was so badly wrecked that it was sold for junk.

The party was returning home at 8:30 o'clock at night, after driving the cattle to the abbatoir. They did not see the approaching cut of cars which came from behind some box cars, as their machine drove onto the track. When Mr. Sellers saw the approaching cut he attempted to cross the track, and the car jumped, the engine hooking itself on the freight car.

Heart and Home Problems

By Mrs. Elizabeth Thompson

Dear Mrs. Thompson: Just a word to dissatisfied wives who are in love with another man:

I am not going to scold you, for you have my heartfelt sympathy, but I only want to try to show you the attitude to take to make you less miserable and help you to do right.

First of all take an inventory of your own shortcomings and magnify every good quality your husband possesses. If you are mothers, cherish your children and live in and for them. Keep busy at some useful work all of the time or in reading helpful literature and doing something to make someone else happy. Attend church and take an active interest in everything around you. But don't sit down and indulge in self-pity.

Don't do anything purposely to tempt the other man or yourself. Treat him as nearly like any other acquaintance as it is possible for you to do. Stop thinking about divorces and then don't get the idea that you are committing a great sin. Love cannot be controlled or understood. It will go where it will, no matter how hard the struggle to keep it where it should be. But all women can keep themselves pure and virtuous if they will to do so. Your plain duty is to give yourself to your husband and children. Yes, you owe the other man a duty too, but it is to help him to do his duty to his family and the world and you can do that best by going on bravely about your own affairs and allowing him to do the same.

Will you suffer? Yes, but it will be a better kind of suffering than you would have to endure if you were the means of breaking up two homes and causing numerous heartaches. Hide your own heartache in making happiness for others. If you are big enough to do this you can approach death, which comes to all, "like one who wraps the drapery of his couch about him and lies down to pleasant dreams." COMPREHENSION.

Your letter is an inspiration and will help many.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl of nineteen. I was very much in love with a young man a little older. He made me believe he cared for me. When I knew him better I learned that I was only one of many.

He is the only fellow among the young men I know who shows an utter disregard for his word. Yet he seems so sincere that I cannot tell what to think of him.

We were engaged and he kissed me. Now I am humiliated to be in company with other nice men when he is in the crowd.

A boy friend wants to love me and has asked me for my love. He is a treasure, but does not know how much I loved this other man and that he kissed me. Would it be honest to marry this friend and not tell him? I have tried by letter and he will not understand. My pride is terribly hurt, for I only meant to really love one man. Should I refuse to marry the other man? We are congenial and he has loved me so long that I feel sure of him.

I would not like to have a secret from my husband, yet it will be a blow to him. I can remain single as well as not. Still I want a happy home some day. I have a wonderful mother. My father is dead. Mother wants me to stay single for a few years. NITA.

I agree with your mother that you are too young to marry. Your first sweetheart has not ruined your life by any means. Sometime you will love another man even more and he will care so much for you that your confession will be received with sympathy and understanding. There is no spot on your character, but on the boy's because he received your kisses of love when he did not deserve them.

DON'T SUFFER WITH NEURALGIA

Use Soothing Musterole

When those sharp pains go shooting through your head, when your skull seems as if it would split, just rub a little Musterole on your temples and neck. It draws out the inflammation, soothes away the pain, usually giving quick relief.

Musterole is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. Better than a mustard plaster and does not blister.

Many doctors and nurses frankly recommend Musterole for sore throat, bronchitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet—colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia.) It is always dependable. 30c and 60c jars; hospital size $2.50.

MUSTEROLE
WILL NOT BLISTER

PUT CREAM IN NOSE AND STOP CATARRH

Tells How To Open Clogged Nostrils and End Head-Colds.

You feel fine in a few moments. Your cold in head or catarrh will be gone. Your clogged nostrils will open. The air passages of your head will clear and you can breathe freely. No more dullness, headache; no hawking, snuffling mucous discharges or dryness; no strugling for breath at night.

Tell your druggist you want a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic cream in your nostrils, let it penetrate through every air passage of the head; soothe and heal the swollen, inflamed mucous membrane, and relief comes instantly.

It is just what every cold and catarrh sufferer needs. Don't stay stuffed-up and miserable.

DON'T DESPAIR

Dear Sirs: I just bought another tube of Cadomene Tablets. My wife and I have used one tube and find them as you state. CHICKENS TELL OF DEATH

Cleveland, Feb. 5.—The restlessness of a flock of chickens owned by Mrs. Minnie Andrews, 76, of this city, led to the discovery of the aged woman's death last night. Neighbors noticed the unusual actions of the chickens, who appeared to be hungry, and an investigation revealed the death.

Protecting Linoleum.

One woman spreads two newspapers over her linoleum while preparing her meals, one in front of the sink and the other near the stove, as she has found that in this way the covering remains fresh considerably longer than otherwise. When the meal is cleared away, the papers are thrown out, and with them no little grease or small particles which would have soiled the floor.

Marmot Skins In Demand.

A large business is done in Manchurian marmot skins. The marmot is very much like a woodchuck, but it possesses a finer coat than does our woodchuck. Thousands of these skins are shipped from ports in northern Manchuria by parcel post through the Japanese post office, but skins of the cheaper grade are forwarded by freight in the usual way.

Never Satisfied.

Grandfather had come to visit at little Harriet's home, in Franklin. The four-year-old was very much interested in watching him removing and replacing his false teeth. One day she said to her mother: "I wish I had teeth like grandpa's. I don't like the kind that's sewed in."—Indianapolis News.

MUSICAL PRODUCTION "THE CANARY" IN TOWN

Charles Dillingham will present his combination of stars Julia Sanderson and Joseph Cawthorn in his newest musical production "The Canary," with Doyle and Dixon, Maude Eburne, and an unusual cast, chorus and the famous Broadway "Johnnies," at the Victory Theater, Dayton, for an engagement beginning Thursday night, with a Saturday matinee. This is the great three-act musical comedy success of beauty, fun and fashion from the French of Georges Barr and Louis Verneuil, which took New York and Chicago by storm, running six months on Broadway at the Globe Theater, and making the most instantaneous hit in records of musical comedy productions. A merry-making, vivacious bunch of pretty girls, about fifty in all, make up the chorus, and they can sing and dance as well as look charming and display fashionably magnificent costumes.

Work of Early Missionary.

The first known European to travel along the Gila river route from the friendly Papago settlement, near the present site of Tucson, was a Jesuit priest, Eusebio Kino, not a Spaniard, but a German by birth, of the family name of Kuhn. He established a chain of missions or visitas down the Santa Cruz river and then down the Gila, among the Papago, Pima, Coco-Maricopa and Yuma tribes. This was between 1692 and 1710, and though it is recorded that during his life he baptized more than 48,000 Indians, none of his religious establishments along the Gila endured.

Derivation of "Flannel."

Some of the earlier philologists claim that the word "flannel" was originally written and pronounced "flannen," and that it was essentially of Welsh origin, being derived from the Welsh "gwlanan," wool, but this derivation is considered doubtful by more modern lexicographers, who regard its derivation from the Danish "flanel," old French "flanelle," or the Italian "flanella," as more probable.

CITY MANAGER SPRINGS SURPRISE ON XENIA

City Manager Kenyon Riddell walked into the office of the city auditor this morning.

Auditor G. H. Stokes and auditor-elect T. H. Zell greeted him with a "good morning, Mr. Riddell."

Then they stared. Behind the city manager walked his double.

He was clothed differently from the city official, but otherwise there wasn't a hair's difference in their appearance that the astonished men could see.

"This is my twin brother, Karl Riddle of Abilene, Kan., he dropped in this morning to pay us a visit," announced the city manager.

The Kansan accepted the introduction in tones which further astonished the two men, for Kenyon Riddell and his brother not only look alike, but their tones, the inflections of their voices are exactly the same, their mannerisms are identical.

The twins laughed over the astonishment of the two Xenians. But it was nothing new to them. Every place today they meet the same reception. And it has been the same way all their lives.

Early Hospitals.

Hospitals were founded in very early times in India, Persia and Arabia. They were for the most part supported by the kings. The Greeks maintained shelter houses for the sick, but the best institutions of this kind in ancient times were those of the Romans, which were actually endowed.

LUNCH BY LADIES OF NEW JASPER CHURCH.

Heart and Home Problems

By MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

Dear Mrs. Thompson: Just a word to dissatisfied wives who are in love with another man:

I am not going to scold you, for you have my heartfelt sympathy, but I only want to try to show you the attitude to take to make you less miserable and help you to do right.

First of all take an inventory of your own shortcomings and magnify every good quality your husband possesses. If you are mothers, cherish your children and live in and for them. Keep busy at some useful work all of the time or in reading helpful literature and doing something to make someone else happy. Attend church and take an active interest in everything around you. But don't sit down and indulge in self-pity.

Don't do anything purposely to tempt the other man or yourself. Treat him as nearly like any other acquaintance as it is possible for you to do. Stop thinking about divorces and then don't get the idea that you are committing a great sin. Love cannot be controlled or understood. It will go where it will, no matter how hard the struggle to keep it where it should be. But all women can keep themselves pure and virtuous if they will to do so. Your plain duty is to give yourself to your husband and children. Yes, you owe the other man a duty too, but it is to help him to do his duty to his family and the world and you can do that best by going on bravely about your own affairs and allowing him to do the same.

Will you suffer? Yes, but it will be a better kind of suffering than you would have to endure if you were the means of breaking up two homes and causing numerous heartaches. Hide your own heartache in making happiness for others. If you are big enough to do this you can approach death, which comes to all, "like one who wraps the drapery of his couch about him and lies down to pleasant dreams." COMPREHENSION.

Your letter is an inspiration and will help many.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl of nineteen. I was very much in love with a young man a little older. He made me believe he cared for me. When I knew him better I learned that I was only one of many.

He is the only fellow among the young men I know who shows an utter disregard for his word. Yet he seems so sincere that I cannot tell what to think of him.

We were engaged and he kissed me. Now I am humiliated to be in company with other nice men when he is in the crowd.

A boy friend wants to love me and has asked me for my love. He is a treasure, but does not know how much I loved this other man and that he kissed me. Would it be honest to marry this friend and not tell him? I have tried by letter and he will not understand. My pride is terribly hurt, for I only meant to really love one man. Should I refuse to marry the other man? We are congenial and he has loved me so long that I feel sure of him.

I would not like to have a secret from my husband, yet it will be a blow to him. I can remain single as well as not. Still I want a happy home some day. I have a wonderful mother. My father is dead. Mother wants me to stay single for a few years. NITA.

I agree with your mother that you are too young to marry. Your first sweetheart has not ruined your life by any means. Sometime you will love another man even more and he will care so much for you that your confession will be received with sympathy and understanding. There is no spot on your character, but on the boy's because he received your kisses of love when he did not deserve them.

CARBON MAKES MOTOR KNOCK

Waste-Clogged Liver and Bowels Cause Thumping Head and Other Misery. Take "Cascarets"

Like carbon clogs and chokes a motor, so the excess bile in liver and the constipated waste in the bowels, produce foggy brains, headache, sour, acid stomach, indigestion, sallow skin, sleepless nights, and bad colds.

Let gentle, harmless "Cascarets" rid the system of the toxins, acids, gases, and poisons which are keeping you upset.

Take Cascarets and enjoy the nicest, gentlest laxative-cathartic you ever experienced. Cascarets never gripe, sicken, or cause inconvenience. They work while you sleep. They cost so little too.

Cured His RUPTURE

I was badly ruptured while lifting a trunk several years ago. Doctors said my only hope of cure was an operation. Trusses did me no good. Finally I got hold of something that quickly and completely cured me. Years have passed and the rupture has never returned, although I am doing hard work as a carpenter. There was no operation, no lost time, no trouble. I have nothing to sell, but will give full information about how you may find a complete cure without operation, if you write to me, Eugene M. Pullen, Carpenter, 3 Marcellus Avenue, Manasquan, N. J. Better cut out this notice and show it to any others who are ruptured—you may save a life or at least stop the misery of rupture and the worry and danger of an operation.

Cured His RUPTURE

I was badly ruptured while lifting a trunk several years ago. Doctors said my only hope of cure was an operation. Trusses did me no good. Finally I got hold of something that quickly and completely cured me. Years have passed and the rupture has never returned, although I am doing hard work as a carpenter. There was no operation, no lost time, no trouble. I have nothing to sell, but will give full information about how you may find a complete cure without operation, if you write to me, Eugene M. Pullen, Carpenter, Marcellus Avenue, Manasquan, N. J. Better cut out this notice and show it to any others who are ruptured—you may save a life or at least stop the misery of rupture and the worry and danger of an operation.

Carrying a Ton a Mile for less than a Cent

Freight rates have played a very small part in the rising cost of living.

Other causes—the waste of war, under-production, credit inflation—have added dollars to the cost of the necessities of life, while freight charges have added only cents.

The average charge for hauling a ton of freight a mile is less than a cent.

A suit of clothing that sold for $30 before the war was carried 2,265 miles by rail from Chicago to Los Angeles for 16½ cents.

Now the freight charge is 22 cents and the suit sells for $50.

The cost of the suit has increased 20 dollars.

The freight on it has increased only 5½ cents.

Other transportation charges enter into the cost of the finished article—carrying the wool to the mills and the cloth to the tailors—but these other charges amount to but a few cents more.

A unit of any commodity will buy more transportation now than it ever did before in the history of the country. A ton of steel or a bushel of wheat will buy more transportation now than ever before.
Walker D. Hines
Director General of Railroads

The $10 pair of shoes that used to sell for $5 goes from the New England factory to the Florida dealer for a freight charge of 5⅔ cents—only one cent more than the pre-war rate.

Beef pays only two-thirds of a cent a pound freight from Chicago to New York.

American freight rates are the lowest in the world.

Is Your Baby Afraid to Walk?

Oft times backwardness in learning to walk is directly due to fear of falling. It's only natural that Baby should prefer the safety of creeping to frequent bumps.

Their tiny ankles need gentle support, but of course binding and stiffness should be avoided. For Baby's first steps we have pretty little shoes that will help them when they learn to walk. In soft Black and Brown Kid, also in Patent Kid.

Famous Old Recipe for Cough Syrup

Easily and cheaply made at home, but it beats them all for quick results.

Thousands of housewives have found that they can save two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, by using the well-known old recipe for making cough syrup at home. It is simple and cheap but it has no equal for prompt results. It takes right hold of a cough and gives immediate relief, usually stopping an ordinary cough in 24 hours or less.

Get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist, pour it into a pint bottle and add plain granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. If you prefer, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, keeps perfectly, and lasts a family a long time.

It's truly astonishing how quickly it acts, penetrating through every air passage of the throat and lungs—loosens and raises the phlegm, soothes and heals the membranes, and gradually but surely the annoying throat tickle and dreaded cough disappear entirely. Nothing better for bronchitis, spasmodic croup, hoarseness or bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, known the world over for its healing effect on the membranes.

Avoid disappointment by asking your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

HOW TO GROW A LITTLE FATTER

And Help Round Out the Hollow Places in Face, Neck and Arms.

A very easy and pleasant method for gaining flesh and rounding out the body is no wadvocated by well-known authorities. Simply drink plenty of good water and take a little Systoxem after meals. This simple method is guaranteed to aid nature in adding healthy tissue, weight and strength to the human body in two weeks' time in many instances. It supplies the blood and system with flesh and strength-building substances now known to be lacking and often wholly lost in the modern foods we eat. Thousands of thin, delicate and run-down folks will naturally be benefitted. One well-known writer on body building, etc., says, "It is just like giving sunshine and water to a withering plant." The ordinary city drinking water here is considered pure and the Systoxem is now obtainable in convenient 5 grain tablet form at good drug stores without a doctor's prescription, it not being a secret remedy.

NOTE—The Sayre & Hemphill and other leading druggists of this city report tremendous increases in the sale of Systoxem since it has become known that this compound and ordinary drinking water help the blood turn the food we eat into solid, healthy tissue, and also induce a feeling of renewed en-

Famous Old Recipe for Cough Syrup

Easily and cheaply made at home, but it beats them all for quick results.

Thousands of housewives have found that they can save two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, by using the well-known old recipe for making cough syrup at home. It is simple and cheap but it has no equal for prompt results. It takes right hold of a cough and gives immediate relief, usually stopping an ordinary cough in 24 hours or less.

Get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist, pour it into a pint bottle and add plain granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. If you prefer, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, keeps perfectly, and lasts a family a long time.

It's truly astonishing how quickly it acts, penetrating through every air passage of the throat and lungs—loosens and raises the phlegm, soothes and heals the membranes, and gradually but surely the annoying throat tickle and dreaded cough disappear entirely. Nothing better for bronchitis, spasmodic croup, hoarseness or bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, known the world over for its healing effect on the membranes.

Avoid disappointment by asking your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

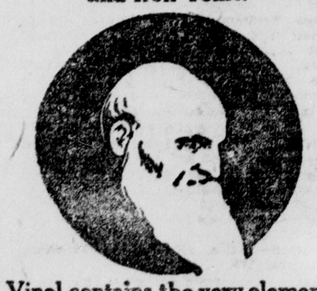
Feeble Old People

Gain Strength and Vigor rapidly on Vinol, our Cod Liver and Iron Tonic.



Vinol contains the very elements needed to replace weakness with strength, just as it did for this New York man.

"I am 74 years of age and got into a weak, run-down condition as a result of the grippe. Our druggist suggested Vinol to build me up and I noticed an improvement soon after taking it, and it has restored my strength so I can now do a good day's work. My wife has also taken Vinol for a run-down condition with splendid results."

NOTE:—Your leading druggist has for many years specially recommended Vinol because he knows there is nothing better than this famous Cod Liver and Iron Tonic to create strength and build one up. The formula of Vinol is on every label.

Your money back if it fails.

"MAKING A KILLING"

By WALTER J. DELANEY

(Copyright, 1920, Western Newspaper Union)

Very generally Ezra Noyes was designated as "queer." Those who had seen him grow up as a boy voted him stupid, as a young man he was considered to have wool-gathering wits and nobody regarded him bright or clever. Withal, however, Ezra possessed one sterling quality of dependability. This was definiteness. He was truthful, set in his opinions. People took little interest in counselling or directing him, and Ezra grew up having to learn the hard lessons of life all by himself.

Unostentatiously but sincerely he gained and held the good will and regard of the rich uncle of the family, Martin Dole, who kept a good deal to himself, spoke little, and in this so resembled Ezra that the twain mutually understood and liked each other. It was pretty well understood between the two that when Martin Dole got ready to quit this world Ezra should step into his shoes as sole heir. Ezra believed in the promise. He did no scheming, thought out the proposition in his own clear, simple way, and adjusted circumstances and probabilities to his own direct way of reasoning.

"I shall not marry while you live," Ezra had told Mr. Dole, and the latter knew that he would keep his word. But fate placed in the way of the carefree young philosopher an attraction in the shape of Verda Morton that he could not resist.

She was the daughter of an ex-general who had once possessed a fortune. All he now had left was his pension and the old but extensive family home, to which he persistently clung as a haven unequaled on earth. Verda was a quiet appearing girl, but with a deep soulfulness which the earnest devotion of Ezra brought to the surface. They became engaged, but under a parental restriction.

"The man who married Verda," declared the old general, "must be able to secure Fairoaks for her. It is heavily mortgaged, and it will take thirty thousand dollars to clear it."

"I shall not ask your consent to our marriage until I have the money to pay for it," observed Ezra in his unostentatious way, and he kept his word. It meant work, saving and waiting, but when Martin Dole died one day Ezra realized that his day of redemption was at hand.

The local newspapers referred to "our lamented and respected citizen, Martin Dole," as the wealthiest resident of Elmwood, but when his estate was settled up there was quite a disappointment for Ezra. His uncle had left him everything, but when his debts were paid up there was a bare eighteen thousand dollars left.

"A good deal of money," soliloquized Ezra, "but not enough to win Verda, so I have got to set my wits at work."

Ezra alone knew where the great bulk of his uncle's fortune had gone. The latter had speculated on the city markets in stocks and bonds.

It was then that Ezra began, indeed, to appear "queer." He suddenly graduated into the most typical young dandy and spender Elmwood had ever seen. He arrayed himself in the most expensive raiment. He was palpably "new-rich" from top to toe.

Then one day Ezra disappeared from his native village. It was to reappear in the city, that greedy metropolis which had divested his uncle of most of his fortune. Ezra attracted attention and caused comment, appearing to the brokers who had fleeced Martin Dole as his heir and deeming himself a regular young Napoleon of finance. If it was all a part, Ezra played it well. He affected artless ignorance of business. He flashed accounts on two or three banks.

"Only looking around," he remarked to the horde of brokers anxious to advise his investments. "I don't select a broker until I see that he is going to make me something, instead of helping me to lose."

The result was natural. The broker to whom he developed his "system" of course knew that in order to lead on this young bird to be plucked he must allow him to make a profitable investment. At twenty different houses Ezra left $500 to be invested. For one week he practically lived at the stock exchange. Then with twenty different brokers who had given him real "tips" and had worked hard to gain a profit, the golden youth left the city with a genial, satisfied smile on his face.

"Made a killing and cleaned up exactly forty thousand dollars," he told General Morton a few days later. "They used to say I was stupid, and those shrewd brokers took me for a sure victim. Well, it's only getting back the money they got from Uncle Martin."

Then simple, innocent-minded Ezra Noyes proceeded to redeem his promise as to Fairoaks. General Morton glowed as he saw the old home safe and his daughter's future assured. Elmwood gasped and started when Ezra's "queerness," quiet, but effective in some way, eventuated in giving him the mayoralty and the presidency of the local bank.

"Somehow, I'm suspicious that Ezra has played us all along," observed Judge Benton, the gossip oracle of the town.

"Not at all," dissented his proud father-in-law. "He wasn't much of a talker, but he knew how to think, and patience did the rest."

"MAKING A KILLING"

By WALTER J. DELANEY

(Copyright, 1920, Western Newspaper Union)

Very generally Ezra Noyes was designated as "queer." Those who had seen him grow up as a boy voted him stupid, as a young man he was considered to have wool-gathering wits and nobody regarded him bright or clever. Withal, however, Ezra possessed one sterling quality of dependability. This was definiteness. He was truthful, set in his opinions. People took little interest in counselling or directing him, and Ezra grew up having to learn the hard lessons of life all by himself.

Unostentatiously but sincerely he gained and held the good will and regard of the rich uncle of the family, Martin Dole, who kept a good deal to himself, spoke little, and in this so resembled Ezra that the twain mutually understood and liked each other. It was pretty well understood between the two that when Martin Dole got ready to quit this world Ezra should step into his shoes as sole heir. Ezra believed in the promise. He did no scheming, thought out the proposition in his own clear, simple way, and adjusted circumstances and probabilities to his own direct way of reasoning.

"I shall not marry while you live," Ezra had told Mr. Dole, and the latter knew that he would keep his word. But fate placed in the way of the carefree young philosopher an attraction in the shape of Verda Morton that he could not resist.

She was the daughter of an ex-general who had once possessed a fortune. All he now had left was his pension and the old but extensive family home, to which he persistently clung as a haven unequaled on earth. Verda was a quiet appearing girl, but with a deep soulfulness which the earnest devotion of Ezra brought to the surface. They became engaged, but under a parental restriction.

"The man who married Verda," declared the old general, "must be able to secure Fairoaks for her. It is heavily mortgaged, and it will take thirty thousand dollars to clear it."

"I shall not ask your consent to our marriage until I have the money to pay for it," observed Ezra in his unostentatious way, and he kept his word. It meant work, saving and waiting, but when Martin Dole died one day Ezra realized that his day of redemption was at hand.

The local newspapers referred to "our lamented and respected citizen, Martin Dole," as the wealthiest resident of Elmwood, but when his estate was settled up there was quite a disappointment for Ezra. His uncle had left him everything, but when his debts were paid up there was a bare eighteen thousand dollars left.

"A good deal of money," soliloquized Ezra, "but not enough to win Verda, so I have got to set my wits at work."

Ezra alone knew where the great bulk of his uncle's fortune had gone. The latter had speculated on the city markets in stocks and bonds.

It was then that Ezra began, indeed, to appear "queer." He suddenly graduated into the most typical young dandy and spender Elmwood had ever seen. He arrayed himself in the most expensive raiment. He was palpably "new-rich" from top to toe.

Then one day Ezra disappeared from his native village. It was to reappear in the city, that greedy metropolis which had divested his uncle of most of his fortune. Ezra attracted attention and caused comment, appearing to the brokers who had fleeced Martin Dole as his heir and deeming himself a regular young Napoleon of finance. If it was all a part, Ezra played it well. He affected artless ignorance of business. He flashed accounts on two or three banks.

"Only looking around," he remarked to the horde of brokers anxious to advise his investments. "I don't select a broker until I see that he is going to make me something, instead of helping me to lose."

The result was natural. The broker to whom he developed his "system" of course knew that in order to lead on this young bird to be plucked he must allow him to make a profitable investment. At twenty different houses Ezra left $500 to be invested. For one week he practically lived at the stock exchange. Then with twenty different brokers who had given him real "tips" and had worked hard to gain a profit, the golden youth left the city with a genial, satisfied smile on his face.

"Made a killing and cleaned up exactly forty thousand dollars," he told General Morton a few days later. "They used to say I was stupid, and those shrewd brokers took me for a sure victim. Well, it's only getting back the money they got from Uncle Martin."

Then simple, innocent-minded Ezra Noyes proceeded to redeem his promise as to Fairoaks. General Morton glowed as he saw the old home safe and his daughter's future assured. Elmwood gasped and started when Ezra's "queerness," quiet, but effective in some way, eventuated in giving him the mayoralty and the presidency of the local bank.

"Somehow, I'm suspicious that Ezra has played us all along," observed Judge Benton, the gossip oracle of the town.

"Not at all," dissented his proud father-in-law. "He wasn't much of a talker, but he knew how to think, and patience did the rest."

Famous Old Recipe for Cough Syrup

Easily and cheaply made at home, but it beats them all for quick results.

Thousands of housewives have found that they can save two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, by using the well-known old recipe for making cough syrup at home. It is simple and cheap but it has no equal for prompt results. It takes right hold of a cough and gives immediate relief, usually stopping an ordinary cough in 24 hours or less.

Get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist, pour it into a pint bottle and add plain granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. If you prefer, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, keeps perfectly, and lasts a family a long time.

It's truly astonishing how quickly it acts, penetrating through every air passage of the throat and lungs—loosens and raises the phlegm, soothes and heals the membranes, and gradually but surely the annoying throat tickle and dreaded cough disappear entirely. Nothing better for bronchitis, spasmodic croup, hoarseness or bronchial asthma.

Avoid disappointment by asking your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

It supplies the blood and system with flesh and strength-building substances now known to be lacking and often wholly lost in the modern foods we eat. Thousands of thin, delicate and run-down folks will naturally be benefitted. One well-known writer on body building, etc., says, "It is just like giving sunshine and water to a withering plant." The ordinary city drinking water here is considered pure and the Systoxem is now obtainable in convenient 5 grain tablet form at good drug stores without a doctor's prescription, it not being a secret remedy.

NOTE—The Sayre & Hemphill and other leading druggists of this city report tremendous increases in the sale of Systoxem since it has become known that this compound and ordinary drinking water help the blood turn the food we eat into solid, healthy tissue, and also induce a feeling of renewed en-

HOW TO GROW A LITTLE FATTER

A very easy and pleasant method for gaining flesh and rounding out the body is no wadvocated by well-known authorities. Simply drink plenty of good water and take a little Systoxem after meals. This simple method is guaranteed to aid nature in adding healthy tissue, weight and strength to the human body in two weeks' time in many instances. It supplies the blood and system with flesh and strength-building substances now known to be lacking and often wholly lost in the modern foods we eat. Thousands of thin, delicate and run-down folks will naturally be benefitted. One well-known writer on body building, etc., says, "It is just like giving sunshine and water to a withering plant." The ordinary city drinking water here is considered pure and the Systoxem is now obtainable in convenient 5 grain tablet form at good drug stores without a doctor's prescription, it not being a secret remedy.

NOTE—The Sayre & Hemphill and other leading druggists of this city report tremendous increases in the sale of Systoxem since it has become known that this compound and ordinary drinking water help the blood turn the food we eat into solid, healthy tissue, and also induce a feeling of renewed en-

OLD-TIME COLD CURE— DRINK HOT TEA!

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teacup full at any time during the day or before retiring It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure a grip, as it opens the pores of the skin, relieving congestion Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking up a cold.

Try it the next time you suffer from a cold or the grip. It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore safe and harmless.

RUB RHEUMATISM FROM STIFF ACHING JOINTS

Rub Soreness from joints and muscles with a small trial bottle of old St. Jacobs Liniment

Stop "dosing" Rheumatism.

It's pain only; not one case in fifty requires internal treatment. Rub soothing, penetrating "St. Jacobs Liniment" right on the "tender spot," and by the time you say Jack Robinson—out comes the rheumatic pain. "St. Jacob's Liniment" is a harmless rheumatism cure which never disappoints and doesn't burn the skin. It takes pain, soreness and stiffness from aching joints, muscles and bones; stops sciatica, lumbago, backache, neuralgia.

Limber up! Get a 30 cent bottle of old-time, honest "St. Jacobs Liniment" from an drug store, and in a moment you'll be free from pains, aches and stiffness. Don't suffer! Rub rheumatism away.

Famous Old Recipe for Cough Syrup

Easily and cheaply made at home, but it beats them all for quick results.

Thousands of housewives have found that they can save two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, by using the well-known old recipe for making cough syrup at home. It is simple and cheap but it has no equal for prompt results. It takes right hold of a cough and gives immediate relief, usually stopping an ordinary cough in 24 hours or less.

Get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist, pour it into a pint bottle and add plain granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. If you prefer, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, keeps perfectly, and lasts a family a long time.

It's truly astonishing how quickly it acts, penetrating through every air passage of the throat and lungs—loosens and raises the phlegm, soothes and heals the membranes, and gradually but surely the annoying throat tickle and dreaded cough disappear entirely. Nothing better for bronchitis, spasmodic croup, hoarseness or bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, known the world over for its healing effect on the membranes.

Avoid disappointment by asking your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

"MAKING A KILLING"

By WALTER J. DELANEY

(Copyright, 1920, Western Newspaper Union)

Very generally Ezra Noyes was designated as "queer." Those who had seen him grow up as a boy voted him stupid, as a young man he was considered to have wool-gathering wits and nobody regarded him bright or clever. Withal, however, Ezra possessed one sterling quality of dependability. This was definiteness. He was truthful, set in his opinions. People took little interest in counselling or directing him, and Ezra grew up having to learn the hard lessons of life all by himself.

Unostentatiously but sincerely he gained and held the good will and regard of the rich uncle of the family, Martin Dole, who kept a good deal to himself, spoke little, and in this so resembled Ezra that the twain mutually understood and liked each other. It was pretty well understood between the two that when Martin Dole got ready to quit this world Ezra should step into his shoes as sole heir. Ezra believed in the promise. He did no scheming, thought out the proposition in his own clear, simple way, and adjusted circumstances and probabilities to his own direct way of reasoning.

"I shall not marry while you live," Ezra had told Mr. Dole, and the latter knew that he would keep his word. But fate placed in the way of the carefree young philosopher an attraction in the shape of Verda Morton that he could not resist.

She was the daughter of an ex-general who had once possessed a fortune. All he now had left was his pension and the old but extensive family home, to which he persistently clung as a haven unequaled on earth. Verda was a quiet appearing girl, but with a deep soulfulness which the earnest devotion of Ezra brought to the surface. They became engaged, but under a parental restriction.

"The man who married Verda," declared the old general, "must be able to secure Fairoaks for her. It is heavily mortgaged, and it will take thirty thousand dollars to clear it."

"I shall not ask your consent to our marriage until I have the money to pay for it," observed Ezra in his unostentatious way, and he kept his word. It meant work, saving and waiting, but when Martin Dole died one day Ezra realized that his day of redemption was at hand.

The local newspapers referred to "our lamented and respected citizen, Martin Dole," as the wealthiest resident of Elmwood, but when his estate was settled up there was quite a disappointment for Ezra. His uncle had left him everything, but when his debts were paid up there was a bare eighteen thousand dollars left.

"A good deal of money," soliloquized Ezra, "but not enough to win Verda, so I have got to set my wits at work."

Ezra alone knew where the great bulk of his uncle's fortune had gone. The latter had speculated on the city markets in stocks and bonds.

It was then that Ezra began, indeed, to appear "queer." He suddenly graduated into the most typical young dandy and spender Elmwood had ever seen. He arrayed himself in the most expensive raiment. He was palpably "new-rich" from top to toe.

Then one day Ezra disappeared from his native village. It was to reappear in the city, that greedy metropolis which had divested his uncle of most of his fortune. Ezra attracted attention and caused comment, appearing to the brokers who had fleeced Martin Dole as his heir and deeming himself a regular young Napoleon of finance. If it was all a part, Ezra played it well. He affected artless ignorance of business. He flashed accounts on two or three banks.

"Only looking around," he remarked to the horde of brokers anxious to advise his investments. "I don't select a broker until I see that he is going to make me something, instead of helping me to lose."

The result was natural. The broker to whom he developed his "system" of course knew that in order to lead on this young bird to be plucked he must allow him to make a profitable investment. At twenty different houses Ezra left $500 to be invested. For one week he practically lived at the stock exchange. Then with twenty different brokers who had given him real "tips" and had worked hard to gain a profit, the golden youth left the city with a genial, satisfied smile on his face.

"Made a killing and cleaned up exactly forty thousand dollars," he told General Morton a few days later. "They used to say I was stupid, and those shrewd brokers took me for a sure victim. Well, it's only getting back the money they got from Uncle Martin."

Then simple, innocent-minded Ezra Noyes proceeded to redeem his promise as to Fairoaks. General Morton glowed as he saw the old home safe and his daughter's future assured. Elmwood gasped and started when Ezra's "queerness," quiet, but effective in some way, eventuated in giving him the mayoralty and the presidency of the local bank.

"Somehow, I'm suspicious that Ezra has played us all along," observed Judge Benton, the gossip oracle of the town.

"Not at all," dissented his proud father-in-law. "He wasn't much of a talker, but he knew how to think, and patience did the rest."

"MAKING A KILLING"

By WALTER J. DELANEY

(Copyright, 1920, Western Newspaper Union)

Very generally Ezra Noyes was designated as "queer." Those who had seen him grow up as a boy voted him stupid, as a young man he was considered to have wool-gathering wits and nobody regarded him bright or clever. Withal, however, Ezra possessed one sterling quality of dependability. This was definiteness. He was truthful, set in his opinions. People took little interest in counselling or directing him, and Ezra grew up having to learn the hard lessons of life all by himself.

Unostentatiously but sincerely he gained and held the good will and regard of the rich uncle of the family, Martin Dole, who kept a good deal to himself, spoke little, and in this so resembled Ezra that the twain mutually understood and liked each other. It was pretty well understood between the two that when Martin Dole got ready to quit this world Ezra should step into his shoes as sole heir. Ezra believed in the promise. He did no scheming, thought out the proposition in his own clear, simple way, and adjusted circumstances and probabilities to his own direct way of reasoning.

"I shall not marry while you live," Ezra had told Mr. Dole, and the latter knew that he would keep his word. But fate placed in the way of the carefree young philosopher an attraction in the shape of Verda Morton that he could not resist.

She was the daughter of an ex-general who had once possessed a fortune. All he now had left was his pension and the old but extensive family home, to which he persistently clung as a haven unequaled on earth. Verda was a quiet appearing girl, but with a deep soulfulness which the earnest devotion of Ezra brought to the surface. They became engaged, but under a parental restriction.

"The man who married Verda," declared the old general, "must be able to secure Fairoaks for her. It is heavily mortgaged, and it will take thirty thousand dollars to clear it."

"I shall not ask your consent to our marriage until I have the money to pay for it," observed Ezra in his unostentatious way, and he kept his word. It meant work, saving and waiting, but when Martin Dole died one day Ezra realized that his day of redemption was at hand.

The local newspapers referred to "our lamented and respected citizen, Martin Dole," as the wealthiest resident of Elmwood, but when his estate was settled up there was quite a disappointment for Ezra. His uncle had left him everything, but when his debts were paid up there was a bare eighteen thousand dollars left.

"A good deal of money," soliloquized Ezra, "but not enough to win Verda, so I have got to set my wits at work."

Ezra alone knew where the great bulk of his uncle's fortune had gone. The latter had speculated on the city markets in stocks and bonds.

It was then that Ezra began, indeed, to appear "queer." He suddenly graduated into the most typical young dandy and spender Elmwood had ever seen. He arrayed himself in the most expensive raiment. He was palpably "new-rich" from top to toe.

Then one day Ezra disappeared from his native village. It was to reappear in the city, that greedy metropolis which had divested his uncle of most of his fortune. Ezra attracted attention and caused comment, appearing to the brokers who had fleeced Martin Dole as his heir and deeming himself a regular young Napoleon of finance. If it was all a part, Ezra played it well. He affected artless ignorance of business. He flashed accounts on two or three banks.

"Only looking around," he remarked to the horde of brokers anxious to advise his investments. "I don't select a broker until I see that he is going to make me something, instead of helping me to lose."

The result was natural. The broker to whom he developed his "system" of course knew that in order to lead on this young bird to be plucked he must allow him to make a profitable investment. At twenty different houses Ezra left $500 to be invested. For one week he practically lived at the stock exchange. Then with twenty different brokers who had given him real "tips" and had worked hard to gain a profit, the golden youth left the city with a genial, satisfied smile on his face.

"Made a killing and cleaned up exactly forty thousand dollars," he told General Morton a few days later. "They used to say I was stupid, and those shrewd brokers took me for a sure victim. Well, it's only getting back the money they got from Uncle Martin."

Then simple, innocent-minded Ezra Noyes proceeded to redeem his promise as to Fairoaks. General Morton glowed as he saw the old home safe and his daughter's future assured. Elmwood gasped and started when Ezra's "queerness," quiet, but effective in some way, eventuated in giving him the mayoralty and the presidency of the local bank.

"Somehow, I'm suspicious that Ezra has played us all along," observed Judge Benton, the gossip oracle of the town.

"Not at all," dissented his proud father-in-law. "He wasn't much of a talker, but he knew how to think, and patience did the rest."

CENTRAL HIGH TO FACE MIAMISBURG FRIDAY EVENING

The Central high five will take the floor Friday night facing Miamisburg. This will be the second time that these two teams have met, the local team journeying to Miamisburg earlier in the season and coming out on the short end of a 31 to 20 score.

The locals were greatly handicapped by Riddell's absence and by the fact that the floor was so slippery that they spent so much time trying to maintain their equilibrium that they had little left to play basketball.

The local team has been having a long losing streak, the last six games resulting in their coming out on the short end and they believe that they will be able to break this spell this week and turn in a victory over the Burgers.

Last week Piqua defeated Miamisburg at Miamisburg, and the Piquads have a far from strong team this year being swamped by both Steele and Stivers so according to dope the local team has about an even chance to win.

Coach Faires' lads have shown a weakness in locating the basket in the last few games, and this has been largely the cause of their downfall. Particular emphasis is being placed upon this point by the high school mentor this week, and if his strenuous drilling has any effect the blue and white quintet should have a greater scoring power when they take the floor Friday night.

"Lodestone" a Mystery.

One of the most fantastic stories of the "Arabian Nights" is of a mountain of "lodestone" which draws the nails out of any ship that may approach it, causing the doomed craft to fall to pieces. It is to be presumed that this remarkable tale finds its germ in the accidental observation of the attraction of iron by pieces of magnetic iron ore. Why is magnetic ore magnetic? Only now and then is iron ore found that possesses this strange property. It is so exceptional that collectors of minerals are always searching for fragments of the material known in earlier days as "lodestone."

AN OLD SOLDIER TRIED HYPO-COD SAYS IT'S FINE

Blood Was Thin, Felt Weak, Appetite Poor and Gas Formed on Stomach

FEELS LIKE YOUNG MAN NOW

Ed Studer, out at the National Military Home, Dayton says Earle's Hypo-Cod made him feel like a boy. Said druggist told the truth alright when he said this tonic was the best one made. Read what he said below.

"My blood was thin. I felt weak and out of fix everyway. My appetite was poor and gas formed in my stomach after meals. I had heartburn after eating. I felt so bad I had to quit work for a while as a barber out at the Home. The druggist told me Earle's Hypo-Cod was the right thing for me to take and as a result I'm feeling as good as I did when a boy at twenty-five. I'm working again now and after my work is done, I pull out my fiddle and play away and enjoy things like a kid. My stomach is in splendid shape. It's as good a tonic as anyone can get and I'm recommending it to everybody," declared Ed Studer, who for six years has been a barber at the National Military Home, Dayton.

Have you been reading the articles appearing almost daily in this paper telling of what others say about this splendid tonic. Watch for them. They are all from people in this vicinity. Easily verified. If you are not feeling as well as you should, and need a good tonic go down to the drug store tonight and secure a bottle of Earle's ypo-Cod which has been endorsed by thousands, Doctor, druggist, nurse, chemist and professor say that it is ideal.

Earle's Hypo-Cod is sold here by Sohn's Drug Store, opposite court house, and the leading druggists in all nearby towns. Price $1.25 plus 5c war tax.

BRADYS TO PLAY DAYTON QUINTETTE

The Bradys will hook up with a fast team Friday night when they tackle the Battery D team from Dayton. The Battery lads have been setting a rapid pace in the Gem City, meeting some of the best teams in the city and surrounding towns and forcing them to take the short end of the score. Their record for the season is a creditable one and should the Bradys succeed in taking their measure it will give them a good reputation in Dayton.

The Bradys have been growing stronger as the season progresses and are confident that they will be able to come out on the winning end Friday night. Last week the local start for the locals Friday night, alversity of Springfield, by a large score and seemed to have struck their stride.

The same lineup that was seen in the game last week will probably start for teh locals Friday night, although Curlett may be able to take his regular position. However, several new faces will break into the contest before its close if everything is going all right.

The game will be in addition to the Central High-Miamisburg clash and the basketball fans will have the opportunity to witness two games at the rink on Friday night.

Wonders of the Heavens.

People in the southern hemisphere see different stars, but there are some constellations which are visible at different times of the year in both hemispheres. If the earth axis kept always perpendicular to the plane of ite orbit none of the northern constellations would ever be seen in the southern hemisphere, but as the axis inclines first one way and then the other, some of both sets can be seen at different times.

HOW TO COOK LIVER.

Method of Preparing Liver—Pour boiling water over the liver and let stand a few minutes. Drain and wipe dry. If desired, remove the outer skin and veins.

Calf Liver, Terrapin Style—Remove the skin and veins from a half pound of calf liver sliced thin and wipe with a damp cloth. Place in a saucepan and cover with one quart of boiling water, and add faggot of soup herbs. Cook slowly twenty minutes and then drain.

Blanch under cold running water, pat dry and cut into one-inch blocks. Place in a saucepan with two tablespoons of fat and one onion, taking care not to brown and then add two tablespoons corn starch and one cup milk. Bring to a boil and cook for three minutes. Add the prepared liver and the yolk of one egg and season with salt, pepper and lemon juice. Stir carefully until boiling point is reached. Serve on toast.

Calf Liver Croquettes—Wipe with damp cloth one-half pound of calf liver. Place in a saucepan with one small onion and cover with boiling water. Cook until tender and then drain. Cool, put through the food chopper and then place in a bowl and add two tablespoons of minced onion, two tablespoons salt, one-half teaspoon white pepper, one cup very thick white sauce and one-half cup bread crumbs.

Mix to thoroughly blend and then pour on large platter to cool, setting in cold place for three hours. Mold into croquettes, dip in beaten egg, roll in flour and fry in hot fat until golden brown. Serve with tomato sauce.

Beef Liver, Creole—Cut one-half pound of beef liver into the slices. Remove skin and veins, and wipe a damp cloth. Roll in flour and fry in hot fat until golden brown. When liver is cooked add one cup of sliced onions, one cup stewed tomatoes and two tablespoons of cornstarch dissolved in one-half cup of cold water. Cover and cook slowly for twenty minutes and then season to taste. Make a mold of mashed potatoes in the center of a large platter. Lay on top the slices of liver. Pour over the gravy.

DISCOVERIES.

When Mending Underwear—Baste a piece of lighter-weight goods under the hole, slipping it over an embroidery hoop and darning with long stitches. Finish by trimming off the edges of patch.

To Make Invisible Patch—To mend a tear in a silk or woolen dress, carefully smooth the frayed edges and place a piece of same material, moistened with very thin mucilage, under the hole. Put a heavy weight upon the patch until dry.

To Join Lace—A neat way to join lace is to lay the right sides together and buttonhole the edge. When the lace is opened you will have an invisible joining.

Darning Children's Hose—In darning a good-sized hole in a stocking saw a piece of net over the hole and darn through the net. This makes a neat and strong darn.

"I thought you two had thrown me down was Mary's greeting.

"No danger of that! Gerry here was too anxious for a good dinner," Robert replied.

"Well, it is all ready. You see I am prompt!" Mary pointed to the Big Ben ticking away on the little shelf over the kitchen table, now converted into her guest table.

"Two rooms was all I could afford and I'd rather eat in my kitchen than in my drawing room. You see my chasy longe is in there and all my expensive brica-brac. Something might get hurt. Then: 'Dinner is served, Madame," she said pertly, as she draped a towel over her arm and held my chair for me in exact imitation of a waiter.

"You're a good little scout, Mary to ask us to dinner," Robert said, his mouth full of delicious creamed potatoes. "Where in the world did you learn to cook?"

"I told Gerry that book stores kept open to sell books, and that I could read. That's the secret of good cooking—of course, if one hasn't got no brains, they can't do anything right But with a good cookbook, cooking is just fun."

"This is a splendid steak," I broke in, delighted that Robert was enjoying himself somewhere besides at Marion Hovey's. You shouldn't have been so extravagant. Our landlady says eating steak is just like eating money nowadays."

"That's the reason we don't get any," Robert added.

"I shan't have steak often. But once in a while it won't hurt me. I have enjoyed my meals so much, Gerry, and have kept account of every single penny I have spent. I live cheaper than I did in her measley third floor back, and have a room to see my beau in besides. You see that cookbook I bought tells how to fix over all the leavings. They are nicer than when they are first cooked, too—some of them. I don't wast a crumb—I give them to the birds. But honest I shall save money living here."

"It sounds funny to hear you talk of saving money," Mary's generous habits were all known.

"But, you see I have something now to save it for. I need a rolling pin dreadfully. I rolled that pie crust with a beer bottle!" She was clearing the table for her desert, which was a thick, creamy lemon pie.

"I don't care what you rolled it with, it's delicious!" Robert declared.

"And I need a lamp to read by—that gas jet in my drawing room is too high. It ain't reherka to eat in the kitchen you know. Then it intereferes with my servants." The flourish with which she accompanied this speech sent Robert off into peals of laughter.

"I'd like to see anyone be blue when you are around," he said, "even a man who is out of a job."

"You'll land something soon," she encouraged.

"I hope so—for Gerry's sake. It's hard on her."

"Don't worry about her, Robert. Don't let her hear, but she's been having things to easy lately. Your aunt and all such pleasant things helped her. She's getting—fat!" in a horrfied whisper.

"Aren't you ashamed to malign me so to my own husband," I exclaimed, as after eating his second piece of pie, Robert declared he must go.

"I guess he knows—he has eyes! "Then! "Must you go, Robert? I thought you and Gerry would spend the afternoon with me."

"Gerry will, but I have an errand I must do. I will come back and get her."

"We'll have the leavings and call it supper," she called after him, then turned to me! "Is he going to look for a place?"

"No, Mary. He is going to Marion Hovey. She is in some sort of trouble, and sent for him." Something I couldn't explain impelled me to give her the true reason for Robert's desertion.

"It's good of Robert," was what she said, but she looked troubled as she added! "We'll hurry the dishes out of the way and have a nice long talk."

DRUGGISTS!

You Can Guarantee This Prescription

So great has been the success of Plough's Prescription C-2223 in relieving thousands of people suffering with Rheumatism, Gout, Sciatica, Lumbago and some conditions of a neuralgic nature, and also other troubles caused by poisons in the blood, known as Eczema, Sores, Pimples, and so on, that the manufacturers authorize you to refund the price of two $1.50 bottles in case satisfactory benefit is not experienced by your customers..

There is no "red tape" connected with this guarantee. When you are assured that the claim for refund is a bona fide one, you give back the price which your customer paid you, and report the case to us. A check for $3.00 is promptly sent you.

Here are the conditions under which this guarantee is made: Your customer, or the patient, must take consecutively two $1.50 bottles. Four trial size bottles do not contain the quantity found in the regular or large size; therefore the guarantee cannot apply to purchases of the trial size. Directions must be followed carefully and suggestions as to diet and habits complied with as far as possible.

If, after your customer takes two $1.50 bottles as above, no relief is experienced—sufficient to justify a continuance of the treatment—upon presentation of the empty bottles, you are to return the purchase price, $3.00, and report the refund, giving customer's name and address and any other information that may be of interest. You will be quickly reimbursed at the same price, $3.00.

Of course there are chronic cases of Rheumatism and Gout which require the use of several bottles, but even in such cases, two large bottles should bring about a change for the better.

Prescription C-2223 is a real blood purifier. It stands above all other remedies as an alterative of great power. It restores normal functions to those organs or tissues which are not naturally performing their full work. It changes diseased conditions into conditions of health.

You can recommend it to your customers and be sure that they will be satisfied, for if no benefit is experienced, you can give their money back.

Before taking Prescription C-2223, it is necessary that the liver should be made active and the bowels regulated. 2223 Liver Pills are different from most cathartics because they act gently and do not sicken or gripe. For best results in taking Prescription C-2223, the use of these tonic liver pills is desirable. They sell for 25c a package.

Your jobber can supply you with Prescription C-2223 and the 2223 Liver Pills, or you can write the Plough Chemical Co., Memphis, Tenn., for information about discount and terms.

CENTRAL HIGH TO FACE MIAMISBURG FRIDAY EVENING

The Central high five will take the floor Friday night facing Miamisburg. This will be the second time that these two teams have met, the local team journeying to Miamisburg earlier in the season and coming out on the short end of a 31 to 20 score.

The locals were greatly handicapped by Riddell's absence and by the fact that the floor was so slippery that they spent so much time trying to maintain their equilibrium that they had little left to play basketball.

The local team has been having a long losing streak, the last six games resulting in their coming out on the short end and they believe that they will be able to break this spell this week and turn in a victory over the Burgers.

Last week Piqua defeated Miamisburg at Miamisburg, and the Piquads have a far from strong team this year being swamped by both Steele and Stivers so according to dope the local team has about an even chance to win.

Coach Faires' lads have shown a weakness in locating the basket in the last few games, and this has been largely the cause of their downfall. Particular emphasis is being placed upon this point by the high school mentor this week, and if his strenuous drilling has any effect the blue and white quintet should have a greater scoring power when they take the floor Friday night.

PORT WILLIAM

The church and school have been closed on account of influenza.

William Thorpe is seriously ill with influenza and pneumonia.

Joseph Beam spent the past week in Columbus.

Mrs. Russell Sherod and son Max, of Kingman, visited her sister.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Beam Wods (nee Mary Opal Johnson), a son, Tuesday.

Miss Edith Bangham is home from O. S. U.

Mrs. Walter Powers and daughter Beulah, of Dayton, are the guests of Oscar Mason and family.

Mrs. Vera Claybaugh Borton, who underwent an operation for appendicitis about a week ago, died Sunday at the Kelly Half hospital. She leaves besides her husband, four small children. Funeral services will be held Tuesday afternoon.

Kelly Bone suffered the loss of his barn, it having caught fire and burned to the ground Monday morning. Several other buildings were threatened, but no other damages were done.

"Lodestone" a Mystery.

One of the most fantastic stories of the "Arabian Nights" is of a mountain of "lodestone" which draws the nails out of any ship that may approach it, causing the doomed craft to fall to pieces. It is to be presumed that this remarkable tale finds its germ in the accidental observation of the attraction of iron by pieces of magnetic iron ore. Why is magnetic ore magnetic? Only now and then is iron ore found that possesses this strange property. It is so exceptional that collectors of minerals are always searching for fragments of the material known in earlier days as "lodestone."

BRADYS TO PLAY DAYTON QUINTETTE

The Bradys will hook up with a fast team Friday night when they tackle the Battery D team from Dayton. The Battery lads have been setting a rapid pace in the Gem City, meeting some of the best teams in the city and surrounding towns and forcing them to take the short end of the score. Their record for the season is a creditable one and should the Bradys succeed in taking their measure it will give them a good reputation in Dayton.

The Bradys have been growing stronger as the season progresses and are confident that they will be able to come out on the winning end Friday night. Last week the local start for the locals Friday night, alversity of Springfield, by a large score and seemed to have struck their stride.

The same lineup that was seen in the game last week will probably start for teh locals Friday night, although Curlett may be able to take his regular position. However, several new faces will break into the contest before its close if everything is going all right.

The game will be in addition to the Central High-Miamisburg clash and the basketball fans will have the opportunity to witness two games at the rink on Friday night.

Wonders of the Heavens.

People in the southern hemisphere see different stars, but there are some constellations which are visible at different times of the year in both hemispheres. If the earth axis kept always perpendicular to the plane of ite orbit none of the northern constellations would ever be seen in the southern hemisphere, but as the axis inclines first one way and then the other, some of both sets can be seen at different times.

Calf Liver, Terrapin Style—Remove the skin and veins from a half pound of calf liver sliced thin and wipe with a damp cloth. Place in a saucepan and cover with one quart of boiling water, and add faggot of soup herbs. Cook slowly twenty minutes and then drain.

Blanch under cold running water, pat dry and cut into one-inch blocks. Place in a saucepan with two tablespoons of fat and one onion, taking care not to brown and then add two tablespoons corn starch and one cup milk. Bring to a boil and cook for three minutes. Add the prepared liver and the yolk of one egg and season with salt, pepper and lemon juice. Stir carefully until boiling point is reached. Serve on toast.

Calf Liver Croquettes—Wipe with damp cloth one-half pound of calf liver. Place in a saucepan with one small onion and cover with boiling water. Cook until tender and then drain. Cool, put through the food chopper and then place in a bowl and add two tablespoons of minced onion, two tablespoons salt, one-half teaspoon white pepper, one cup very thick white sauce and one-half cup bread crumbs.

Mix to thoroughly blend and then pour on large platter to cool, setting in cold place for three hours. Mold into croquettes, dip in beaten egg, roll in flour and fry in hot fat until golden brown. Serve with tomato sauce.

Beef Liver, Creole—Cut one-half pound of beef liver into the slices. Remove skin and veins, and wipe a damp cloth. Roll in flour and fry in hot fat until golden brown. Cover and cook slowly for twenty minutes and then season to taste. Make a mold of mashed potatoes in the center of a large platter. Lay on top the slices of liver. Pour over the gravy.

DISCOVERIES.

When Mending Underwear—Baste a piece of lighter-weight goods under the hole, slipping it over an embroidery hoop and darning with long stitches. Finish by trimming off the edges of patch.

To Make Invisible Patch—To mend a tear in a silk or woolen dress, carefully smooth the frayed edges and place a piece of same material, moistened with very thin mucilage, under the hole. Put a heavy weight upon the patch until dry.

To Join Lace—A neat way to join lace is to lay the right sides together and buttonhole the edge. When the lace is opened you will have an invisible joining.

Darning Children's Hose—In darning a good-sized hole in a stocking saw a piece of net over the hole and darn through the net. This makes a neat and strong darn.

DINNER AT MARY'S

CHAPTER 44

"I thought you two had thrown me down was Mary's greeting.

"No danger of that! Gerry here was too anxious for a good dinner," Robert replied.

"Well, it is all ready. You see I am prompt!" Mary pointed to the Big Ben ticking away on the little shelf over the kitchen table, now converted into her guest table.

"Two rooms was all I could afford and I'd rather eat in my kitchen than in my drawing room. You see my chasy longe is in there and all my expensive brica-brac. Something might get hurt. Then: 'Dinner is served, Madame," she said pertly, as she draped a towel over her arm and held my chair for me in exact imitation of a waiter.

"You're a good little scout, Mary to ask us to dinner," Robert said, his mouth full of delicious creamed potatoes. "Where in the world did you learn to cook?"

"I told Gerry that book stores kept open to sell books, and that I could read. That's the secret of good cooking—of course, if one hasn't got no brains, they can't do anything right But with a good cookbook, cooking is just fun."

"This is a splendid steak," I broke in, delighted that Robert was enjoying himself somewhere besides at Marion Hovey's. You shouldn't have been so extravagant. Our landlady says eating steak is just like eating money nowadays."

"That's the reason we don't get any," Robert added.

"I shan't have steak often. But once in a while it won't hurt me. I have enjoyed my meals so much, Gerry, and have kept account of every single penny I have spent. I live cheaper than I did in her measley third floor back, and have a room to see my beau in besides. You see that cookbook I bought tells how to fix over all the leavings. They are nicer than when they are first cooked, too—some of them. I don't wast a crumb—I give them to the birds. But honest I shall save money living here."

"It sounds funny to hear you talk of saving money," Mary's generous habits were all known.

"But, you see I have something now to save it for. I need a rolling pin dreadfully. I rolled that pie crust with a beer bottle!" She was clearing the table for her desert, which was a thick, creamy lemon pie.

"I don't care what you rolled it with, it's delicious!" Robert declared.

"And I need a lamp to read by—that gas jet in my drawing room is too high. It ain't reherka to eat in the kitchen you know. Then it intereferes with my servants." The flourish with which she accompanied this speech sent Robert off into peals of laughter.

"I'd like to see anyone be blue when you are around," he said, "even a man who is out of a job."

"Don't worry about her, Robert. Don't let her hear, but she's been having things to easy lately. Your aunt and all such pleasant things helped her. She's getting—fat!" in a horrified whisper.
